Flashes of maroon and gold and enthusiastic, rain soaked and wind-blown fans roaring with excitement at the action of the "fighting farmers," create the pulsating fervor of school spirit. The pounding hearts of a huge body stirring with life and filled with pride for Warwick are controlled by its pulse—the students.

24

These students and their achievements, failures, joys, and sorrows are the center of WHS. As a pulse continuously beats so does time continuously pass, and the days are only recollections. Heartbeats of memory begin with Orientation Day and continue throughout '66—senior rings . . . The Ring Dance . . . Miss Armistead, our new assistant principal . . . decrease in student enrollment . . . pep rallies . . . victory over Oscar Smith—our first game . . . SCA Variety Show . . . Homecoming game with Matoaka . . . honor cards . . . the beautiful Senior Prom . . . successful dances . . . Homecoming Queen, Sandy Paine . . . Wednesday morning Congress meetings . . . school spirit . . . campaigns . . . fun . . . laughter . . . excitement . . . the thrill of the New Year's Eve Party . . . and the summit of emotion for the Seniors, Graduation.

Everything is exciting, pulsating with life. Everything is different, unique. As you turn the pages of the '66 Warwick, you will be seeing a true picture of life at Warwick.

From the moment the school grounds are reached, activity begins . . . group gatherings in the cafeteria before homeroom . . . mobbed halls filled with people, mice to mighty seniors . . . the resounding clanging of the bell . . . the daily classroom activities . . . intense discussions . . . quiet moments of study . . . laughter over amusing antics . . . "stage-fright" at oral report time . . . teacher-student relations . . . the varied testing programs . . . the library, a refuge from all the hustle . . . hungry Farmers descending upon the cafeteria and the Senior lunch line . . . knowledge gained from assembly speakers . . . anxiousness waiting for 3:35 and freedom.

The activity of student life does not end when all WHS students have piled into buses and cars, homeward bound. The pulse has changed. Its quiet, accustomed beating mounts to a higher pitch . . . after-school meetings of clubs promoting worthwhile projects . . . the excitement of sports events . . . the high school spirit of the entire student body . . . the sportsmanship of the teams . . . Homecoming activities . . . the school dances with beating music and rhythm-crazed dancers . . . the formal beauty of the Prom with its elegant guests . . . outstanding achievements by outstanding students . . . play productions filled with drama, humor, and Warwick stars . . . and finally, Graduation, the height of excitement for the seniors.

The pulse of student life is the central heartbeat, the true existence of Warwick High School.

STUDENT LIFE

Enthusiasm and Excitement Pulsate High at Warwick

The up-raised hand of an informed student in class; faces lit with knowledge; other faces brightened with the light of mischief; colorful class discussions; the drudgery of tests and exams; the fear of oral reports; informative assemblies; 5 minute breaks between classes; congested halls and buildings interrupted by smiles of recognition and greetings of friendship; the quiet of students using the facilities of the library compared to the hub-bub chatter and relaxation of students enjoying the cafeteria lunches . . . this was the quieter side of WHS student life.

The hurry to catch those buses; the excitement, fun, laughter, and school spirit sung joyfully at sports events; the wild rhythm of the bands that called students on the dance floor; the enchantment of the Prom; club and committee participation . . . the vibrant side of student life joined with the quiet: they picture completely the student life of Warwick High School throughout '65 and '66.

Students Generate the Basic Pulse of Warwick High

The pulse of Student Life—a central heartbeat that controls the existence of Warwick High School.

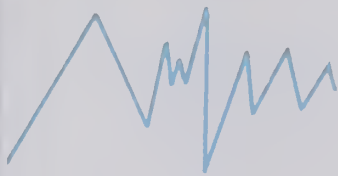

Without its students, there would be no participation, no emotion, no spirit; there could not be a school. The many phases of this part of school life are so varied and unique that only pictures can express them.

School spirit demonstrated by Becky Olsen: "Watch me fly!"

Teachers Instruct and Instill New Ideas and Principles

FACULTY

The pulse of the faculty—a guiding beat essential to the maintenance of the central body of Warwick High School.

Teachers are the accomplisners of many and varied feats. They must be skilled instructors, mind-readers, psychiatrists, comedians, and disciplinarians, as well as possessing the patience of Job. They aren't "supermen or women" but are capable of human failure and success. This is what creates a closer unity between student and teacher.

Many of their days seem unrewarding and monotonous; but, then there is an answer of understanding from one pupil, an "A" paper from another, and all is worthwhile.

As sponsors of the many clubs and committees, the faculty gains an understanding of young goals and of young minds. Each becomes a more active part of WHS and strives even harder to instill knowledge within each person under his or her responsibility.

All is not classroom work for the faculty. The lively "chats" held in the various teacher's lounges resound throughout the halls, while envious students watch the parade of Pepsi bottles toted by their professors. At the sports events the faculty adds its enthusiastic support and at school dances occasionally manage to "outstep" their amazed pupils.

The "teacher-world" is one of contrasts—the gentle rhythm of a heart instructing, the vibrant pounding of the same heart joining in livelier activities. Together these beats form the pulse of The Faculty.

Elliott Shows Spirit of Enthusiasm, Loyalty, Devotion

"... a heart filled with energy, enthusiasm ..."

A pulse is a resounding and meaningful throb—the heartbeat of life. All are endowed with this, but few can feel the fervent vigor and understanding it creates.

The quiet rhythm of a heart instructing English students—steady and sincere with a desire to give.

The continuous beat of the heart of a true friend—a patient and untiring listener, a wise and helpful counselor.

The vibrant pounding of a heart filled with energy, enthusiasm, laughter, fun, authority, and respect, whether faithfully painting a poster for the Pep Committee or contributing her "all" at football games.

These qualities and many more make this vibrant individual an outstanding figure to the pulse of WHS.

Therefore, the 1966 Warwick is proudly and sincerely dedicated to Miss Carolyn Elliott.

"... a patient and untiring listener ..."

"... a wise and helpful counselor ..."

"... contributing her "all" at football games ..."

Principals Work Together to Create School Harmony

Understanding, authority, control . . . the WHS principals in action.

With added experience and knowledge, Mr. Caywood increased his contributions to Warwick High School and continued his excellent leadership. His past experiences guided him in attaining high standards during '65-'66.

A new face brightened the administration this year—Miss Ellena Armistead, Assistant Principal and Dean of Girls. Throughout her career she has taught elementary school and also was an asset to arch-rival Newport News High. The friendly personality of Miss Armistead made her readily accepted by all. She stated that the students and teachers alike were "very co-operative, willing to work and outstanding in dress and general behavior."

Mr. Formichelli, an administrative member of long standing, followed his usual techniques with the duties of Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys. His experience throughout the many years he has competently administered his job made him invaluable, as well as a very well-known figure in the halls of Warwick.

Mr. Formichelli to sorrowful student: "Sorry, fellow. you're gonna have to get a haircut."

WHS Business Tycoons Put Emphasis on Efficiency

"A little effort goes a long way" and the WHS office staff went all out to prove that a lot of effort goes a longer way.

Mrs. Leviner never lost that leading quality as office head or that spirited drive for the all important task of being secretary to Mr. Caywood throughout the year.

Finances were in "shipshape" as Mrs. Hamlett dutifully kept records, wrote purchase orders, and listened endlessly to all forms of money matters.

Mrs. Lundeen's duties behind the little window marked "Transcripts" requires that little extra effort, as all kinds of information went through her capable hands.

Many WHS students faced the questions of Mrs. Dedmond while she tried her best to tackle the tedious task of tracking down any lost person for the attendance records.

The ringing telephone captured Mrs. Boykin's attention as she attempted to answer anything for anybody as Warwick's receptionist.

"No, Mrs. Hamlett, you're wrong—Peyton Place comes on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights," exclaims Mrs. Leviner.

Tycoons at work—Mrs. Boykin, Mrs. Leviner, Mr. Formichelli, Mrs. Hamlett, and Mrs. Dedmond.

"This is the hardest crossword puzzle I've seen," sighs Mrs. Leviner.

Mr. Hasinger to Mrs. Dedmond: "If you didn't like that tune, listen to this one!"

Schedules may have satisfied most students this year, with repeated gym classes, study halls, lunches and room 304 which never could be found; but for the near mad guidance department, it only meant endless lines of pupils, work, and more work.

Along with the job of straightening out "kooky" schedules, the five counselors faced the task of assisting WHS students in the more serious fields of subject choices, grade improvements, testing programs, and probably most important—college preparation for upperclassmen.

Eighth grade troubles were handled by Mrs. Parker who opened new doors to the mice. Mr. Quesenberry guided the more knowledgeable freshmen to seek their goals. Studious sophomores gained understanding and assistance from Mrs. Muire. The increasing problems of being upperclassmen made junior class counselor, Mrs. Palmer, an invaluable aid. The strifes of the seniors who approached graduation and the future with considerable uncertainty were solved by Miss Atkinson, department head.

When the eventful year ended, five relieved "whews" were breathed softly throughout the halls of Warwick.

"Did I file my pocketbook under 'P' or 'B'?" ponders Mrs. Muire.

Academics Include Subjects That Interest Every Student

ACADEMICS

The pulse of Academics—a steady, meaningful beat, touching each and every person at Warwick High School. The main purpose of any institution of learning is to promote education in the various fields of study. Each academic course provides a basis for increasing knowledge in these fields and creates unity in the thriving body of WHS.

Whether concerned with Macbeth, American local color, Julius Caesar, Great Expectations, or those impossible participles, the English Department never failed to increase knowledge and interest among students . . . The Math and Science Departments both seemed mainly interested in a logical and scientific approach to any problem, no matter what! . . . Every social studies student has his nose buried in a newspaper at some time or other looking for any type of current events . . . Conjugating irregular verbs takes much of the language students' time and patience . . . Distributive Education, Industrial Education, and Business enthusiasts learn the skills of their trades before venturing out into the business world, proving that practical experience is invaluable . . . The "stars" of the future find their beginnings in the drama class . . . The Art and Music Departments work at producing great painters and singers while the Home Economics Department provides useful training in cooking, sewing and house care . . . Health and exercise are not neglected at WHS; the active Physical Education Department strives "to build strong bodies" . . . Last but never least the library where anyone from any of the other departments goes when in search of information on any subject.

Miss Simmons makes English enjoyable for her students.

World Literature Course Is Added to English Curriculum

Christine Williard and Linda Branch concentrate on an English assignment.

While English courses this year weren't "double, double toil and trouble" they were quite a challenge for many WHS English students.

The upperclassmen were mainly confronted with studies in literature—complete, detailed and really popular with everyone involved.

An added literary opportunity for juniors and seniors was the world literature course. According to instructor, Miss Callahan, "the purpose of the course is to familiarize the students, extensively and intensively, with the great literary works of each country and with the representative authors of each country." Numerous reports and research papers were required from the class members, who found the course both rewarding and interesting.

For the 8th and 9th graders a special course was offered to those who needed improvement in reading and basic language ability. The SRA Reading Laboratory, Nile Blanton Smith's Be a Better Reader Series, new library books, and supplementary reading books all aided students' reading habits. Workbooks supplemented the regular textbook—the combination greatly increasing comprehension in basic mechanics, spelling, word skills and the fundamental grammar necessary for effective speaking and writing.

The department's steady progress in teaching the varied phases of the English language and works concerning it definitely proved the value of organized teaching methods. Students and teachers alike benefited greatly from such skilled techniques.

New Calculus Course Offers Challenge to Select Seniors

"But, Colonel, a cube has four sides!"

Despite the difficulties in this year's math classes, the teachers succeeded in instructing their students in most of the objectives of their math courses: to train pupils to evaluate facts in given situations, to instill a sense of value in pupils, and to develop in them the ability to think. Other objectives of the Math Department were to provide pupils with a sound background in the basic fundamentals of mathematics through logical reasoning and the scientific approach.

Under the direction of Mr. Neil Drummond, the Math Department completed an extremely significant and difficult year.

By offering calculus for the first time this year, Warwick High School became the twenty-sixth high school in the state of Virginia and the first in Newport News to offer such a course. Other mathematical courses offered were: general mathematics; consumer mathematics; Algebra I and II, III and IV, and Algebra V; geometry—plane, solid, and co-ordinate; trigonometry; and math analysis.

Thus, work from the Math Department comprised a large portion of time in the daily life of a high school student.

Colonel Archibald gives students instruction in math principles.

Analytical Chemistry Offers New Challenge for Seniors

Mr. James MacNeil, head of this year's Science Department, enhanced the knowledge of many science students and modified numerous courses by improving teaching methods.

This year the department revised its senior science program to conform to that of other city high schools; the course consisted of one semester of advanced chemistry and one semester of genetics.

With the exceptions of general physics and genetics, new textbooks were provided for all science courses. Also, new microscopes were received and were most helpful to Mr. Kennedy's biology students. In addition to new microscopes, the Science Department obtained material that enabled the physics class to make laboratory experiments in optics. The department started a file of prepared transparencies for overhead projectors, and new science films from the city film library were shown in the individual classrooms. These and other techniques contributed to the movement of expanding the use of audio-visual materials in teaching.

Mrs. Audrene Hughes this year began alternating between teaching Chemistry and math, and returning after a year's absence was biology teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin.

By the end of the year, students had successfully been instilled with a good knowledge of chemistry, earth-space, biology, physics, and genetics.

Social Studies Department Stresses Current Events

Mrs. Lambiotte eyes her social studies class with suspicion.

The Social Studies Department was extremely active in its courses this past year. Having acquired the S.C.A. room in the library, the department, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Luck, converted the room into an area of storage for maps, charts, and reference material. Responsible for the remodeling were the wood shop students who felt they should move to bigger things after building their first door-stops.

This year the department showed the "Screen News Digest," a documentary film series, in the auditorium rather than in individual classrooms. This proved to be more profitable for students and also for our numerous, overworked teachers. Also this year, current events reports were given by students in all social studies classes, with the exceptions of economics and sociology. The purpose of the reports was to serve as an incentive for students to read newspapers and magazines more thoroughly. As a direct result, one student claimed to have expanded his reading selections from Dick Tracy to Brenda Starr and the Ann Landers column.

New teachers in this department were Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey, Mrs. Barbara Eriksson, and Mr. James Workman. Returning after a three-year absence was Mrs. Ann Smola, while Miss Waverly Hundley showed her qualities as a history teacher.

Harvey Rowe displays his versatility in German—"Was ist neues Pussy Katze?"

Books and Tapes Added to Foreign Language Study

Students desiring to be well-rounded in the past year, branched out in the study of foreign languages.

Four levels of Latin, French, and Spanish and three of German were taught. According to Mrs. Curtis, department head, "The main objective is to enable the student to develop skill in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing the language." Aid in the attainment of these goals was received through use of the language laboratory, portable tape recorders, phonographs, movies, and filmstrips. Sommets Littéraires Français was one textbook added to the department for this purpose.

An interesting and informative audio-lingual course was offered to eighth graders who had completed four years of oral French in elementary grades and gradually the skills of reading and writing were added to their knowledge.

A wider interest range was created through Le Cercle Français, Los Conquistadores, and Deutschverein. These language clubs were concerned with the customs, culture, and civilization of the foreign countries.

Assets for future college students came in the forms of the annual language scholarship, presented by Los Conquistadores; and open to all modern language students, the College Board Listening Comprehension Tests.

Business Class Learns Skills and Obtains Part-Time Jobs

Cramped fingers from those long hours of shorthand, spinning heads filled with unadded figures, and clicking typewriters were the standard signs of WHS business students this year.

Woven among the skills of business education was the philosophy of the department. This philosophy endeavored to develop personal use of consumer and citizenship values; to assist in making occupational choices; to mold marketable skills in typewriting, filing, stenography, record keeping, bookkeeping, office machines and clerical work; to create and maintain good work habits and personality traits, proper attitudes toward work, co-workers, and employers; to provide part-time work experience which enabled students to take their places in the business world upon graduation and become useful, self-supporting citizens of the community. Through Vocational Office Training students found part-time jobs in office work.

With such a quantity and quality of upstanding goals, there was little need for new courses and textbooks. New methods of teaching skills used by each teacher of the department, including new member, Mrs. Haynes, obtained better and better results; and whiz typists, bookkeepers, and accountants were produced by the number.

Girls work diligently over their machines.

Distributive Education Students Acquire Sales Techniques

This year the Distributive Education Department demonstrated the value of practical experience in education.

To begin their training many students enrolled in the preparatory distributive education branch, a tenth grade course which instilled the basic background of the projects but did not offer on-the-job training.

Upperclass trainees secured varied job positions which created the need for drumming up any salesmanship skills possible. However, these efforts were repaid repeatedly by that big, fat paycheck.

Socially speaking, the D.E. Department was not neglected. The Distributive Education Club gave the students an opportunity for enjoyment and for meetings with members from neighboring schools.

Also this year, D.E. students aided the community by taking over the management of Hilton Shopping Center on occasion and quite successfully, too!

Students Gain Experience, Training in Shop Classes

Drilling, carving, welding, and even small electrical explosions were only small samples of action in the Industrial Education Department in the past year!

Mr. W. E. Jones, leader of the active department served many purposes, including that of head doctor from saw, hammer, and torch injuries, not to mention mechanical pencil stabs.

No new courses were added, but a continuation of those taught last year—wood shop, metal shop, drafting, electricity, electronics, and a general shop program for eighth graders—made way for interesting study. These basic subjects proved to be invaluable aids to the many students endeavoring to succeed in one phase of the many fields of industry later on in life.

This excellent training provided the students with a chance to be a part of the Industrial Co-operative Training program. More benefit was gained from actual experience in mechanics, electronics, and various other fields, than the classroom activity could ever provide.

Drama Students Present Big Hit, "Letters to Lucerne"

"To be or not to be!"

This and many other questions asked by drama students at the beginning of the year were soon answered. Under the skillful guidance of Mrs. Alice Flowers, the Drama Department completed one of its most successful years. Although there were no textbooks, Mrs. Flowers, new to the halls of Warwick, instructed her classes in the history of the theatre and in the arts of acting and staging.

This year's students were compelled to give numerous scenes each semester. They gradually learned new acting techniques and applications of make-up. By November, the Drama Department was prepared to give its "debut," and prior to the Thanksgiving holidays, the play, "Letters to Lucerne" was successfully presented. However, this was only one of many "hits."

Not only were the drama students concerned with acting and speaking, but many other students also took the special speech class. In giving at least one speech a week, much emphasis was placed on developing self-assurance while speaking. In addition, students were obliged to listen to three speeches from outside sources every six weeks.

Textures, Structures Are Featured in Art Classes

Under the vivacious leadership of Mr. Barclay Sheaks, the Art Department successfully completed an experience-packed year. With the help of Mrs. Adelaide Carson, Mr. Neal Britton, and Mr. Kenneth Bowen, Mr. Sheaks initiated new projects in color, modern art, structure, texture, and printing.

In order to accomplish all of the projects, classes in the department were divided according to different interests. The aforementioned teachers headed the four major divisions in the department. While students were in Mr. Sheaks' class, they learned about painting and drawing. On the other hand, in Mr. Britton's class, students learned the arts of weaving and pottery-making. Students were taught sculpture and graphics under Mr. Bowen, the only new teacher in the department, while Mrs. Carson's students were preoccupied with metal and jewelry.

Besides making the four-class circuit, many students benefited from field trips to Mariner's Museum. The advanced classes visited exhibits at Christopher Newport College, The Museum of Fine Arts' "Art Mobile," and enjoyed an all-day excursion to Old Dominion College.

Library Aids Students With New Reference Books

One of the busiest places at Warwick was the library. Students and teachers were continually gathering materials and equipment required for use in both classrooms and individual study. Throughout the year, students came for research and recreational reading; and teachers brought classes for reference work.

The library was constantly adding new titles to the already well-balanced collection of 15,000 volumes and 85 periodicals. Books were chosen according to the needs and interests of the students. Every effort was made to keep materials up to date and to remove obsolete information.

Two trained librarians and volunteer student assistants were kept busy helping students and teachers make effective use of these resources. Encouragement in the selection of appropriate materials was given by the librarians, Mrs. Harmon and Mrs. MacMurrin, with the hope that sound judgment on their part would help the students throughout their life.

Cooking, Sewing, and Interior Decoration Taught in Home Ec

Above: Mary Neale ponders: "Wouldn't it be easier to just staple this?"

"Are you going to eat that?"

"Golly, no. This is for my hair!"

Discussions like these were very common in Mrs. Hoyle's eighth grade cooking class. The Home Economics Department put special emphasis on the art of culinary preparations this year, with the cooking classes learning to make full-course dinners and also finding out the correct way to set tables.

Students taking home economics also learned to sew. Fourth-year students made suits and dresses, while one fifth-year student made her prom dress.

In addition to sewing and cooking, students were educated in interior decoration. Co-ordination of colors, and the correct way of balancing rooms by positioning furniture completed the future home-makers' program.

Music Department Provides Outlet for Mood, Expression

Some of this year's most enjoyable assemblies were presented by the Music Department. Both band and vocal divisions of the department demonstrated their music abilities before the student body and at many public concerts.

This year's Music Department was headed by Mr. Smith, Grenadier Band director; he was assisted by Mr. Robinson, junior band director, and Mr. Tew, head of the vocal division.

The bands, which practiced by sectioning classes according to students who played percussion, woodwind, etc., instruments, marched in many parades and won numerous awards. While the Grenadiers played at varsity football games, the junior band played at J.V. games.

In the vocal division Mr. Tew instructed his classes in deep breathing and taught them Russian folk songs as well as many other foreign songs. Mr. Tew's classes consisted of members of A Cappella, Girl's Chorus, and Male Chorus.

Individual Skills Stressed by WHS Gym Teachers

Right: Boys show athletic ability in relay races.

Below: Carol Pond successfully demonstrates the V-sit in gymnastics.

For the first time at Warwick High School, the Physical Education Department emphasized individual skills. Free exercise, a compromise between ballet and tumbling movements, began along with gymnastics, which consisted of a detailed work-out on the balance beam and springing leaps over the horse.

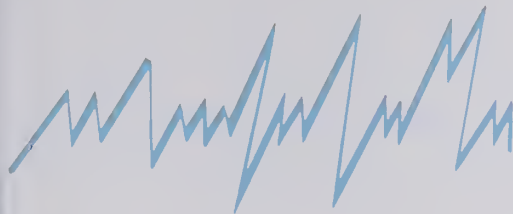

Special recognition was given to the teachers for their assistance in boosting the activities of field hockey, basketball, volleyball, wrestling, and crab soccer. In addition to their usual course, the classes were intermixed to perform the "alamand left," "alamand right," and "do-sedo."

"Hey Ace, what the heck do you think you're doing?" shouted Coach Secules to a member of his eighth grade class who was attempting burpees. The boy's division emphasized daily exercise along with wrestling, basketball, and tumbling.

School Spirit Enthusiastically Shown Throughout Classes

CLASSES

The pulse of the classes—the vital beat of individuals and groups striving toward goals of achievement. With the increase of age and experience also comes the realization that high school life is the molding of future men and women.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y—the battle cries of the separate classes in competition with each other or the even mightier sound of unity throughout "Farmerland" when the five portions of WHS join forces. The victory might be that of making a profit from a long-worked-on dance; winning the AFS bond sale drive; contributing $100 to the SCA scholarship fund; Powderpuff competition; selling enough Farmer pillows to make the whole deal worthwhile; getting all those different committee members to work; outstanding academic achievements; giving a beautiful Prom; and the supercalifragilisticexpialidocious victory for the Seniors—Graduation!

The classes strive for more than just outstanding accomplishments. They emphasize the many "Mary Joneses" and "John Browns" of Warwick High School. Each is a vital, working part of the main body of the school. Each contributes to the throbbing, steady pulse of WHS.

The time had finally come for the first eighth grade class in the five year program to be the leaders—the mighty seniors of Warwick High School. Through the years, added experience, knowledge, fun, and mishaps created the ability necessary for the "head men."

September eighth! At last the long awaited class rings arrived. Each and every senior wore this symbol of achievement proudly. To add even more pleasure and excitement to the occasion, the first Senior Ring Dance was held where all came wearing the finest of their finery, especially that ring!

Raising money was, as usual, the major undertaking of the class. Through a highly successful dance in November and numerous other projects, such as a "spoon annual," the class of '66 managed to scrape up the needed dollars. As always, $100 was contributed to the SCA scholarship fund, and great time and effort was taken in choosing the senior gift to the school.

The time flew for the seniors . . . studying, parties, College Boards, Powderpuff, exams, Senior assembly, banquet, awards . . . and a year of colorful memories was created.

The enchantment of the Prom was a finishing touch which led to the final, grand achievement—Graduation.

Mr. Kennedy Honored for Service to Senior Class

Right: A dedicated sponsor ends a successful day.

Any organization has need of a guiding hand, an authoritative word, and to the Class of '66 Mr. Jerry Kennedy proved to be these things and much more.

When only freshmen, the now mighty seniors were introduced to this man and through the years, a close bond was formed between the two.

Many learned of his qualities by being a student in his different science classes, but their honest appreciation came when he advised them, as juniors through the trials of giving a prom.

The Class of '66 wishes to thank again their sponsor, Mr. Jerry Kennedy, for his untiring efforts and valuable aid.

Above: Sandi Bryant, president, ponders: "If this is the carriage, where are the wheels?"

Left: Steve Burnette, vicé-president, and Miss Callahan have a friendly discussion.

Below: Barbara Hamlett, secretary-treasurer, wonders if the juniors' finances will be sufficient for the Prom.

Prom! Prom! Prom! What a headache! This was the main objective behind all the money-making projects headed by the junior class. Dances along with the endless distribution of pillows resulted in Barbara Hamlett's buying a larger money-bag. The coat-check, an avoidance of mass confusion after basketball games, also aided the juniors' strife in sponsoring the seniors' big night. These projects made it possible for them to be the first class to donate their $100 to the SCA scholarship fund. Without the diligence and hard work demonstrated by Mrs. Mahone, class sponsor, and Sandi Bryant, class president, the junior class would have failed in attaining its goals.

Pushed ahead by two junior cheerleaders, the junior boys, especially such sports stars as David Hickman and Bob Kretz, were outstanding in their contributions to Farmer victories. In the beauty line, Toni Dedmond and Connie Smoot proudly represented the eleventh grade class on the Homecoming court. In addition, the juniors and seniors battled for success in the traditional Powderpuff game.

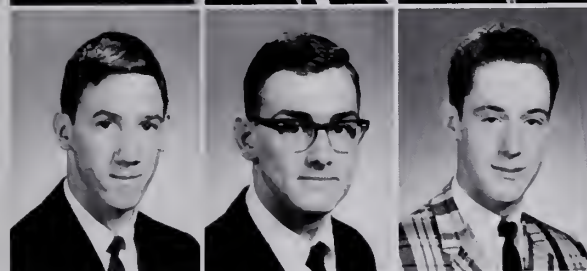

Academically, the fast-moving juniors were not left behind. Various members of the class contributed much to the literary fields of WHS and many honor students were named. Each effort pushed them forward toward new achievements and goals and next year's mighty senior class.

Class Officers Show Skills in Sophomore Leadership

"School spirited" described the sophomore class as they eagerly participated in both school and class functions under the leadership of class sponsor Mr. Williams. Their first project, a dance, proved to be successful as well as prosperous, for this enabled them to make their donation to the SCA scholarship fund.

Sophomores combined hard work and dedication to present the highly successful Senior Assembly which wasn't forgotten by many upperclassmen.

Many sophomores prepared themselves as future school leaders through the SCA District and Federation and the AFS Rally in Richmond. Many clubs also boasted active support and leadership from spirited sophomores.

The sophomores were not outdone in sports since many boys played key positions on J.V. as well as Varsity teams; five peppy sophomore girls cheered them on to victory.

Beauty was an equal attraction as Debbie Joyner represented her class on the Homecoming court and Connie Norris in the Miss Hi-Y Pageant.

So the sophomores looked back on their third year at Warwick as a year of amusement and accomplishment, but anticipated next year when they will take their place as upperclassmen.

The freshman class plunged into a new year with great enthusiasm and confidence. Having conquered the intricate task of getting from one part of the school to the other within five minutes, they mastered their mad dash to class. They soon learned that the classes had gotten harder, and that they had to work twice as hard on the make-up of an average freshman school day. Chemistry equations, algebra problems, and english compositions were only part of the problem! The working freshmen gave their hard-earned money to the AFS program; and, once again they were awarded top honors for their collected bonds. Under the capable leadership of Mark Chesson, the class president, Mrs. Lambiotte, the class sponsor and other freshmen, the class held a Halloween dance and assisted the sophomore class in giving the annual Senior Assembly.

"You can do it! You can do it! You know you can!" screamed the two freshmen J.V. cheerleaders as they cheered the J.V. football, basketball, and baseball teams to many victories. Several freshman boys participated in these Farmer teams. Many of the girls joined the GRA and became active in the FHA. It was indeed a year of growing up at Warwick High—the class increased in size and their bankbook showed a profit. On the whole, the Class of '69 grew and prospered; proving their un-ending enthusiasm and spirit.

Mary Albertson, mice secretary-treasurer, makes an abstract drawing in art class.

It didn't take long for the "Mice" of Warwick High to realize their responsibilities as high school students. They began their struggle for recognition by giving a dance which enabled them to appropriate $100 to the SCA Scholarship fund. In sports the eighth graders, such as Jim Snow, class president, enthusiastically plunged into many varied activities in both boys eighth and ninth grade teams and the G.R.A. To cheer the boys on to success, four eighth grade girls were added to the Junior Varsity squad. This was the first time in the history of Warwick High that rising eighth graders were permitted to cheer not only their class, but also the entire student body to increased school spirit.

The eagerness of the class to show their abilities in reaching decisions was shown through the selection of Connie Pennington as representative on Homecoming court. Their sponsor, Colonel Cake, guided them through their hectic and yet memorable first year at Warwick. Thus, the "Mice" concluded their beginning year with accomplishment.

Students Show Active Support in Clubs, Organizations

ACTIVITIES

The pulse of Activities—the beat of participation, affecting the entire character and tradition of Warwick High School.

Leadership qualities are repeatedly found throughout the school: the SCA Executive Council being the head of the group . . . outstanding Farmers exchange ideas with other schools in the Federation . . . the class officers prove to be excellent Senators . . . and Wednesday mornings are a time of action for all Congress members.

The Cabinet plays a vital role in advising and leading various SCA committees. Its importance is major and essential.

The judicial branch of WHS is headed by the Executive Honor Council and is striving for the promotion and enforcement of honor, not only during school, but throughout the lives of the Farmers.

The publications are enjoyable and very meaningful to all pupils and teachers. The Earle presents the facts and highlights of Warwick in a bi-monthly edition. The Warwick staff is concerned with publishing a history of the school year in pictures and copy. The Plough is composed of the students' own inspirations and gives everyone a chance to appreciate WHS literary talents.

The bands and choruses are a source of pride at Warwick. They entertain, aid, compete, and win awards, too!

Clubs are the major activities joined in by students. Each serves a different and special function, and each is a wonderful extracurricular undertaking.

The industrious members of the SCA Executive Council are as follows: Robert Dunn, vice-president; Brenda Winall, president; Alvin Mirmelstein, treasurer; and Carol Pond, secretary.

SCA Executives Promote High Standards at Warwick

Robert Dunn reports to Brenda Winall on some of this week's Senate activities.

The leadership of Warwick High School was the responsibility of a member of the "fairer sex" this year. Brenda Winall, SCA president, managed to keep an upper hand in all the trying situations that faced her throughout the 1965-66 school year. At every assembly she spoke a few words to the student body, and at every Congress meeting she capably controlled all activities. Robert Dunn was faced with the new task of heading the Interclub Council, only one of his duties as SCA vice-president. As always a major job of his position was that of Senate president. His invaluable aid as "second in command" was an asset to Brenda as well as to WHS. At each Congress meeting there was one person who had to remember and record all important facts stated. This person was Carol Pond, SCA secretary. The office typewriter clicked continually as Carol prepared the SCA minutes for homerooms the next day. She also was responsible for various SCA bulletin boards and announcements. The last member of the quartet was Alvin Mirmelstein, SCA treasurer. He was mainly concerned with balancing the numerous SCA books by keeping an accurate account of all gains and expenditures, which required many trips to the office.

These four capable officers and their new sponsors Mrs. Armistead, Mrs. Quesenberry, and Mr. Williams planned numerous activities including: Farmer Day, Christmas Spirit Week, "Know Your SCA Week," and the annual SCA Variety Show.

Federation Coordinates SCA Programs and Projects

Industrious members of the SCA Federation work on their Christmas project.

One of the most influential organizations at Warwick and in the district this year was the Federation. The members of the WHS Federation, as well as the representatives from other peninsula schools, had the job of compounding several ideas into one unified opinion. This one accomplishment in itself helped to alleviate many problems that each school had to face. Panel discussions were a popular and effective method of remedying hardships that were common to all the district members. These student-elected representatives enthusiastically participated for the purpose of making their Alma Mater a more enjoyable and efficient place.

A major problem confronting the Federation members was that of unsportsmanship during sports events. The solution decided upon by this concerned group was in the form of a contest between all schools for the distinct honor of best sportsmanship in the district.

As always the various officers came from the different area schools. Warwick was amply represented by many of the school leaders who contributed their viewpoints in exchange for those of the other members. All was not formal at Federation meetings, however. There were many occasions for laughter and time for friendships to be started.

By combining the good times with hard work, the Federation delegates increased WHS's development in its legislative functioning.

Senate Familiarizes Students With Organization of SCA

The Senators of the past year executed their duties in the Senate with dutiful service and loyalty to their class and to Warwick High School. They first met in the spring of 1965 to approve the newly appointed SCA Cabinet. They assembled again in September to appoint a Board of Elections and to approve other presidential appointments. Their most important and widespread project this year was to aid the SCA Executive Council in sponsoring "Know Your SCA Week" in January, and a bulletin board was decorated especially for this week. Each day bulletins explaining the various divisions of the SCA were sent out. The purpose of this week was to better acquaint the students of Warwick High School with their SCA, thus promoting school spirit and enthusiasm.

Robert Dunn, SCA vice-president, presided over the Senate as chairman, and the members were composed of the officers of each class. The chairman of the Executive Honor Council also participated in the Senate.

The differing opinions and varying personalities within the Senate provided for a challenging, yet successful year for the students, the classes, and the entire school.

Robert Dunn, vice-president of the Senate, discusses plans with senior class officers Jimmy Spielberger, Joyce Bohlken, and Everett Hogg.

SCA Constitution Revision Heads Legislative Business

The legislative and guiding body of WHS, Congress, met each Wednesday during 1965-66 for the purpose of transacting all business concerning the students. These members from the Executive Council, the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Cabinet, and the Executive Honor Council carried out many and varied projects under the watchful guidance of three sponsors.

Topping the list of SCA fund-raising projects was the annual SCA Variety Show. This project was quite successful in exhibiting the talents of WHS students as well as increasing the treasury.

Probably the biggest task Congress undertook this year was the revision of the Warwick High SCA Constitution. John Allen capably led this committee to an eventual victory with WHS's best-written Constitution.

Although Congress was busy at home, members participated in outside SCA programs as well. Delegates actively represented Warwick at Peninsula Federation meetings, the SCA District Meeting, the SCA State Conference, the AFS Forum, and various other conferences and forums.

Throughout the year, members of Congress were busy in every phase of life at Warwick. They were proud of the many things they accomplished as the representative body of the Warwick High SCA.

Organizations Necessary Part of School Functions

The function of the Halls and Corridors was to insure proper deportment in the hallways during the two, daily lunch periods. They performed their duties strictly and were pleased to see that the majority of students cooperated.

The bonfire assembly and skit which were carried out with enthusiasm were just a small part of Homecoming. It also included a lot of hard work and worries, but when Warwick rolled over Matoaka with a score of 27-0, it all proved to be worthwhile.

The tasks of maintaining and improving the beautification of Warwick High were controlled by the Building and Grounds Committee. Various projects accomplished this aim.

Leadership Training was an organization formed for the sole purpose of helping and answering questions of people interested in running for any SCA or class office. Through panel discussion and speeches students were able to increase their knowledge of campaign procedures and officers' duties.

Lou Cartin performed his duties as SCA Chaplain with an amazing amount of dutiful service. Preceding every assembly he led the student body in prayer and the allegiance to the flag.

Participation in Committees Helps Promote School Spirit

By incorporating new ideas from other schools and using their own original ones, the Pep Committee promoted school spirit in all sports events of the year. They sponsored buses to the away football games, sold pom-poms, and held pep rallies during the sports seasons.

The Forensic Club, a preparatory for competition in public speaking, spelling, and reading, presented an assembly, read to patients at Patrick Henry Hospital, and participated in the seminar at the University of Virginia, the training program at the University of Virginia, and the district meet.

Wading through newspapers, streamers, posters, and other "little" bits and pieces, Janice Moody, Historian, managed to compose a momentous SCA scrapbook for 1965-66. She worked hard and, putting forth a great amount of effort, produced a scrapbook that the entire student body was proud to claim.

The fall and spring Student-Faculty Teas were the major events sponsored by the Social Committee. They also worked energetically to create an unforgettable and successful Homecoming Dance.

The task of the Publicity Committee was that of making known to all the students the many and varied events at WHS. For the Faculty Tea in September, the group sent invitations. The largest undertaking was the publicity of the greatest SCA project—the Variety Show which was a tremendous success.

The hard working, money making members of the Publicity Committee are, Row 1: Candy Moore, Karen Clark, Joyce Bohlken, Ann Burns—co-chairman, Jo Saunders—co-chairman. Row 2: Carol Pond, Janice Moody, Melody Clendenin, Joanne Branscomb, Bonnie Vandenbree.

The Orientation Committee undertook the task of completely revising and reprinting the orientation handbook for the benefit of the new eighth grade class and other new students. They also sponsored a "get-acquainted" day for upcoming eighth graders.

The Activity Ticket Committee swung right into process by busily sorting ticket books. With the invaluable aid of its sponsor, Mr. Powers, the committee completed its work with a minimum of inconvenience and a maximum of fun for everyone.

Farmer Day and Christmas were the big days for the halls of Warwick and the Bulletin Board Committee. "Know Your SCA Week" also brought bulletin boards full of school-spirited pictures and displays.

Brenda Smith, single member of the Remembrance Committee, contributed much to the spirit of well-being at Warwick this year. She was responsible for sending get-well cards to any individual directly involved with the school who was ill over an extended period of time.

The biggest undertaking of the Projects Committee was the annual SCA Variety Show. Many hours of hard work were spent distributing sign-up sheets and choosing the final acts for the show. The money from this project was the SCA's main method of boosting its treasury.

Monthly calendars showing activities and club meetings were posted by the Cafeteria Committee for the students' benefit. Thanksgiving brought scenes of country churches and autumn leaves, while Christmas ushered in carolers and season's greetings.

Honor Committee, Council Promote "Education In Honor"

Last summer eight members of the Executive Honor Council began planning for the coming year at WHS. The theme that they selected for the 1965-66 school year was "Education in Honor." This theme was presented to the student body in the Honor Council assembly which was held the first week that school was in session. Honor cards were distributed to all the students of Warwick High the following week. Again this year, honor cards were required as identification for all school dances and other social functions. In addition, the Honor Council sponsored honor week during the exam period stressing the importance of upholding the commitments of the honor code.

In January two members of the Honor Council, Brenda Smith and Carol Freda, and their sponsor Mrs. Quesenberry attended a state Honor Council Forum, an interesting and informative program in Richmond, and also sponsored an honor survey in several English classes.

Second semester, the Council sponsored weekly honor sayings such as "Honesty is the best policy" and "An honest man is the noblest work of God." This entire school year was spent on improving the honor system at WHS for the benefit of the students.

The select members of the Executive Honor Committee are, Kneeling: Coleman Walsh, Sharon Wiseman, Ede Raine, Janet Burgess, and Rodney Suddith; Standing: Barbara Edberg, Carol Freda, Susan Rex, Brenda Smith, Sandy Brock, and Mary Sampselle.

Efficient Ushers Limit Confusion at Assemblies

The intricate tasks of door stopping and people placement were completely controlled by the 1965-66 Ushering staff. This capable group was under the supervision of Mr. Barclay Sheaks and was composed of thirty energetic and courteous juniors and seniors.

Ushers were an important link in the many activities at Warwick. They gave assistance in such school functions as College Day, PTA Back-to-School Night, the SCA Variety Show, musical concerts, plays, and graduation, as well as the regular weekly assemblies.

To become an usher, one had to first be willing to serve the school, for the staff was composed of volunteers. Ushers were above-average students and had to have the recommendation of at least two teachers. They were required to write an essay stating their qualifications and giving reasons why they desired to become ushers.

Leadership abilities, personality, poise, appearance, and dependability were characteristics considered about the candidates before the final selections of the ushers were made.

Every Friday the ushers' capable abilities were put on trial. These abilities were really rattled by the seasonal spirits possessed by the students before a holiday.

It was an active year for the staff. Each was proud to be of service to Warwick and performed all their duties with a smile.

Earle Staff Features Letters of Opinion, Editorials

Mrs. Brabrand, Eddie Miller, and Brenda Franklin approve a recently taken picture.

The time was 11:00; the day was any day; the place was room 181; and the result—chaos. This was the description of the staff room; and every day through the last of '65 and the beginning of '66, it was occupied by the thirteen-member Earle staff.

The ticking of a clock seldom seemed important to a "layman," but to the Earle staffers, the byword was rush. The editors had to prepare assignments; stories had to be secured and written; makeup had to be plotted, re-plotted, thrown out and plotted again; typewriters ran full time; glue sniffers revelled in the constant aroma; deadlines were finally met—and the Earle came back from the printer's and settled on the student body.

Staffers got used to the editors muttering "block-head" as soon as they discovered that it wasn't a technical term. They soon learned that "no" was a much used word. Nicknames grew like rabbits—"Tilt," "Big Ed," "Ben Franklin"—everyone learned to live with a different name—and answer to it.

It may have been a hard year, but never a bad one. The staffers were crippled with a sizeable past debt and less activity money. They had to condition themselves to working on a tight schedule. They wrote, corrected, typed, and pasted; but after each deadline they relaxed and read the results of their work. This was the Earle staff, 1966.

Students' Literary Work Creates New Abstract Plough

1965 marked the tenth anniversary of the Plough, Warwick High School's literary magazine. The Plough staff, composed of the members of the advanced composition class, compiled two issues. Those issues represented the best writings and most creative art work contributed by the entire student body. On January 14, 1966, the year's issues were sincerely dedicated to a long time Plough supporter, Miss Carolyn Elliott.

April, 1965 was another big date for the Plough staff. The magazine captured a first place literary award at the Southern Interscholastic Press Association. The honors were brought home from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, by the two representatives to the conference.

A publicity campaign, urging all students to participate through literary and art contributions, formed the sale of patron ads in order to raise funds for larger issues of the magazine. Each of the departments—short story, poetry, feature, essay, and art—considered all the submitted materials. After co-editors-in-chief Don Owen and Donna Hales read the staff's choices and the advisor, Miss Lois Callahan, approved the work, the selections were typed with the help of several non-staff typists. The galley sheets, typed columns returned from the printer, were sent through the paste-up stage—the final composing. Passing proofreadings at many stages of production, the Plough staff distributed the final product of much hard but satisfying work.

Staffers Complete Annual Despite Many Complications

From the mass of bleak, gloomy buildings, light shone from four oblong windows. It was midnight at Warwick, and another dreaded deadline day had come ... and gone.

For the Warwick staffers, the year '65-'66 offered hard work, long hours, and an immeasurable challenge: the production of a "yearbook to end all yearbooks," one which would appeal to the faculty as well as the student body. There were no doubts in the staffers' minds that they would succeed, but there were times when their sponsor Mr. Howell wondered about ... those untaken pictures, where the copy was (what copy?), why it always snowed at deadline time, and who lost the keys to the staff room! And then there were the differences between staff members ... "Now, Jo, I don't think 'inspiring' is the right word to describe the cafeteria." At times, staff members even had to make sacrifices—like sleeping, and eating, and not doing homework. But then, there were always the A.S.P.'s to make up for them!

Finally, at the end of an exhausting year for the six juniors and six seniors, their faithful photographer, and their painstaking sponsor, the Warwick staff achieved success. When the two-tone blue annuals arrived from the publisher's, they knew that this was Warwick's best. Deep satisfaction and pride swelled in their hearts, and they could actually feel the "Pulse of Warwick."

Grenadiers Create British Air With Regimental Marches

Members of the powerful Percussion section are, Clyde Darden, Al Graham, Paul Darden, Ronnie Weiss, Ray Mooney, Richard Parker, Gene Pointer, Nancy Junkins, Donnie Ligon, Robert Edberg.

Although small in size, this year's Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps had a large sound, both on the march and in concert. The members practiced mornings before school and often at night, perfecting their musical skills. The results of their efforts were apparent as the group fused into a British sounding organization.

During football season, they performed at half-time at most of the "home" and some of the "away" games. Sometimes appearing in closed formation, other times in long lines, the Grenadiers and Pipers proceeded to the middle of the field where, as if by magic, they transformed themselves into designs, block letters and figures. Always, these musicians closed their show with their famous "spread W."

Led by Drum Majors Robert Parker and Steve Givens, the band delighted thousands of spectators in cities all over Virginia. The first viewers were parade-goers at the Newport News Fireman's Parade. Next, they paraded in Hampton for Eldon James Day. The year's first trophy was won when the band received first place in the Columbus Day Parade.

In December, the musicians assumed the role of wooden soldiers and ushered in Santa Claus with Parade of the Wooden Soldiers and March of the Toys. In Alexandria the Pipe Corps and Grenadiers marched in George Washington's Birthday Celebrations.

Warwick Highlanders Win State, National Recognition

The Grenadiers turned again to trophy winning as the climactic Big Four approached. On four consecutive weekends the band competed with other bands from all over the East for honors. First, they won the approval of the spectators at The International Azalea Festival. Next, the Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps swept through the city of Winchester where they were the favorites of the "Apple Blossom" crowds. The two other appearances were for Washington, D.C. National Safety Patrol Parade, and The Peninsula Armed Forces Day Parade.

In concert, Mr. Lyle M. Smith proved that his musicians had mastered the rich full tone of the British bands. Three large concerts were held: the Christmas program, the Spring Concert, and the Mariners' Museum Concert. In this last performance seniors were honored and commended for their years of work.

The band performed several Military Tattoos. The Bagpipers entertained for children at a Christmas program for TAC Langley on December 18, 1965. They received their best recognition for the tattoo held at Norfolk Naval Base in February.

From drums to drones, from tambourines to tubas, this year's band found its activities very rewarding. Even their turtle, Winchester, who was entered in the Keyette turtle race won third place!

With pipes singing and kilts swinging, the Bagpipers bringing honors to Warwick this year are: Steve Givens—Drum Major, Janet Burgess—Pipe Major, Nancy Lereridge, Nancy Espinola, Hope Tatum, Becky Parker, Linda Phillips, Ceil Center, Wrenda Goodwyn, Darry Turner, Jim Davis, Ralph Downey, Leslie Rust, Rose Sellers, Thomasin Baker, Terry Bailey, Judy Topham, Cindy Smiley, Alice Burden, Sharon Crickenburger, Janet Daniel, Marilyn Primm, Martha Little.

New Director Sparks Up Maroon Band's Enthusiasm

Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Robison the Junior Band, better known as the Maroon Band, was seen at every home Junior Varsity football game playing their team on to victory. They performed in the true school spirit during halftime at the home football games—especially Newport News.

Mr. Robison, who was the new director this year, shaped the Maroon Band into a budding group of young musicians. Every member cooperated and participated in all of the band functions and activities.

In October they played in the annual Fire Prevention Parade in Hampton. As the year progressed, they kept pace with their curriculum by marching in Christmas, Loyalty Day, and Armed Forces Day parades.

By teaming their efforts and talents, the Maroon Band proudly presented two concerts for the purpose of raising money for new sheet music. They also played in two concerts given by the entire Music Department. They participated in four assemblies—the last one giving a climactic conclusion to the observance of "Music Week."

A few of the members of the Maroon Band obtained valuable experience by attending District Regional Try-outs which were held on December 11, 1965.

The Maroon Band was a stepping-stone towards the famous Warwick Grenadier Band, and the members were proud of their participation in it.

A Cappella Highlights Year With Christmas Concert

To most Warwick High students the phrases "Ma-ho-Bay" and "Pow, pow, pow" were not too significant, but to the members of the '65-'66 A Cappella Choir, they were key words to many exciting things.

An active year befell the group as they entertained at the usual fall, Christmas, and spring concerts. An added sign of the quality of their talent was shown through various invitations they received to sing at area churches. Spellbound onlookers delighted to the beautiful and inspiring Christmas pageant, The Incarnate Word, presented under the capable supervision of Mr. William Tew, choir director.

Also, at the Christmas assembly held in the auditorium before the holidays, Mr. Tew was presented a wrist watch by the choir members.

This year's songsters were headed by "ruler" Harvey Rowe, who was assisted by Cheryl Burnham, vice-president, and Patti Hamilton, secretary. The choir entrusted its hard-earned money to its treasurer, Sharon Dietz, and the business was managed by Wade Heath. Not only did the members of the A Cappella Choir benefit immensely from the beautifully inspired singing that they produced, but they also benefited from the compatability of their members. They worked in cooperation with each other and enjoyed each other's company during school hours as well as in leisure time.

Organization and Teamwork Characterize Male Chorus

Electronics, wood shop, and metal shop classes were invaded in the past year to recruit a larger membership for the Male Chorus. This new method of attaining singers proved highly successful and increased the group to over 50 members.

After settling down to business, officers were selected with Junior Webb chosen as president. Another major task was the placement of boys in either the bass, the baritone, or the first or second tenor section according to voice pitch.

All sections learned rhythm, discipline, teamwork, and a variety of songs. With the motto, "Break problems into their smallest parts," they learned music and enjoyed doing it.

Aside from singing, the Male Chorus challenged Ferguson's Chorus in football and came out as victors. Warwick's determined drive was shown by the score, 54-0, and by the fact that Ferguson quit at half-time! Throughout the year, the group was an asset at pep rallies and at football and basketball games with their wholehearted cheering.

The Male Chorus worked hard and had favorable results this year. They entertained at school concerts and also performed at the request of other organizations. But each member agreed on one thing, "Credit should be given where credit is due—to the chorus director, Mr. Tew."

Mr. Tew directs the Male Chorus in rhythm techniques.

Girls' Chorus Compromises on Choice of New Outfits

"I Enjoy Being a Girl," "Velvet Shoes," "It's a Grand Night for Singing," and "Have You Ever Seen a Star" were the various songs performed by the Girls' Chorus under the capable direction of Mr. William A. Tew. Their success was due to the fact that both the chorus and director put forth their best efforts in rehearsing numbers for such programs as assemblies and concerts.

Although Girls' Chorus was generally accompanied by a piano during their performances, at times throughout the past year they sang a capella in such religious songs as "Beautiful Saviour," and "Angels We Have Heard on High."

A big project of the past year was choosing the outfits they were to wear at all performances. After much consideration, an A-line shirtwaist dress made of navy blue denim was their final choice. The majority of the outfits proved to be the handiwork of mothers, while a few dresses were made by the members themselves.

During the year, select members participated in musical productions not staged by Girls' Chorus. They joined A Capella choir in the Christmas season to present the program, The Incarnate Word; later in the year a few members entered the Regional and Workshop choruses.

Two girls were elected to represent the chorus throughout the year: Connie Norris presided as President while Faye Garner occupied the office of Vice-president.

Mr. Tew leads the Girls' Chorus in "It's a Grand Night for Singing."

The enthusiastic officers of the German Club are, Ned Gleason, Diana Hack, Morgan Roane, and Susan Phillips.

"Der Deutsche Verein" was carried out to develop a better understanding of Germany, the German people, and to learn more about their customs and traditions. Before Thanksgiving the German Club was invited to Hampton Roads Academy to attend their "Liederfest"—a song fest. The scholarship given to a deserving senior who was taking German was the climactic event of the year.

Only two years old, the Warwick High School Keyette Club has done an amazing amount of enthusiastic service for their school and community.

Before school opened in September, the Keyettes were busy planning a dance to raise money for the Public Library Building Fund. Early in the fall the girls were highly commended by the Muscular Dystrophy Association for their time and effort. The Teachers' Help Project was another of the Keyettes' many helpful activities.

The biggest event of the year was "Peace Corps Week," presented in order to raise money for building schools in Guatemala. This proved to be a tremendous success for the Keyettes and provided a week of fun for the students.

A few of the girls were able to attend the Keyette National Convention held in Washington, D. C. in March. This was the grand finale to which every Keyette looked forward to with high expectations.

The enthusiastic and helpful Keyettes of 1965-66 lived fully up to their motto—"We serve."

Many thanks went to Mr. Ward, sponsor and coordinator of Warwick's D.E. Club this year. Through his aid, the club successfully managed three-fourths of the businesses in Hilton Shopping Center on November first and hosted the district D. E. contests.

The Industrial Cooperative Training Club also had an active year with Mr. Kahout as the I.C.T. coordinator. One of the numerous speakers sponsored by the club was Mr. Congdon, director of the Vocational Technical Center. The highlight of the year was the I.C.T. State Convention held in March in Alexandria.

The third year of the Monogram Club proved profitable as well as memorable to the club members. Under the leadership of Mr. Quesenberry, members sold programs and key chains. At the end of the year they bought their traditional maroon and gold jackets.

Another enterprising club at Warwick this year was the Vocational Office Training Club. Mrs. Burcher, teacher and coordinator of the club, taught the many phases of secretarial work. At the end of the year, a scholarship was given to the "most deserving business girl of the year."

The French Club had a successful year under the sponsorship of Mrs. Curtis. As each class was a separate club with separate officers, numerous projects and programs were undertaken. At the end of the year an exciting, massive program was presented involving all club members.

Originality, Creativity; Goals of School Organizations

With conviction in their voices and facts in their files, the members of the Warwick Debate Team tallied impressive scores in the Windsor meet, the St. Vincent contest, and the Wilson tournament. As a finale they took responsibility for arranging the District Tournament which they carried out superbly.

Visits to Dow Chemical Corporation and Union Carbide Corporation provided interesting activities for the Science and Math Club. In school various speakers and numerous films were presented.

The Spanish Club of Warwick was busy this year with a bulletin board, two car washes, and a social event. Their most important activity was the awarding of a scholarship to their senior member who met the highest qualifications.

Not only did the Chess Club show their intelligence by their maneuvers in a strategic game of chess, but the element of fun certainly was not lost. When in a winning or even losing situation, Pat O'Neil would offer his opponent one of five choices—"Quit, concede, abdicate, capitulate, or resign."

A coke party, a Valentine's tea, and a covered dish supper were just a few of the many activities programmed by the Future Homemakers of America. They also made stuffed animals for the children at Riverside Hospital during December.

Having attended Blue Ridge and Model General Assemblies, the members of the Tri-Hi-Y conscientiously carried out their duties and activities as a service club at WHS. Their main project was preparing Halloween candy for retarded children.

School Clubs Prepare WHS Students for Future Life

The Future Teachers of America compiled an honor roll every six weeks. During "National Education Week" they chose an outstanding student each day from different grade levels, and outstanding students of the month were also honored. As a service project members visited children at Virginia State School for the Blind.

This year the Warwick Amateur Radio Club had the tedious task of writing and adopting a new constitution. Because of a lack of licensed members, a class was created in which members obtained federal radio licenses. By the end of the year the club was able to purchase a communications receiver.

For its third successful year, the Teen Care Club raised money to support the needy people overseas. Their main money-making activity was the sponsoring of Revenge Week.

The Warwick High School Youth for Christ Club stressed the highest moral standards in all of its activities. There were two entirely different meeting procedures: one type of meeting was strictly for religious purposes, while the other type catered to the interests of students not in the club.

The Future Nurses Club toured Old Dominion College, the Medical College of Virginia, Memorial Hospital, and Riverside Nursing School. Speakers, films, and other career programs were supplied at their meetings. This year they were sponsored by the Medical Auxiliary.

There are many honorary organizations at WHS . . . the Quill and Scroll distinguishes outstanding literary students . . . the National Honor Society gives credit to those who possess ideal scholarship, leadership, character, and service . . . the Key Club and Hi-Y are male organizations endeavoring to be of service to anyone, anywhere . . . the National Thespian Society singles out fine actors and stage crew members who earn a certain number of meritorious points.

Special students are spotlighted throughout the year . . . D.A.R. Award winner; National Merit scholars; Boys' and Girls' State Delegates; band and chorus members; and Senior Leaders.

Quill and Scroll Honors Alumni; Holds Publications Week

The Ruby Altizer Roberts Chapter of Quill and Scroll International forwarded the journalistic endeavors at Warwick High throughout the year. "National Newspaper Week" was observed during October with a bulletin board explaining the process involved in the publication of the Earle. An assembly was presented with Mrs. Bea Kopp, a well-known photographer, as the featured speaker. She spoke on her experiences as a photographer and the rewards awaiting those choosing photography as a career.

A formal induction ceremony for new members was held at the Virginian. The speaker for the banquet was Mr. Robert Burgess, a local author and photographer.

Once again the WHS chapter had the opportunity to sponsor the WGH program "We the Young People." There was an effort made to include as many of the area schools as possible. The varied topics of discussion benefited both the students and the community.

As a school project, Quill and Scroll sponsored a bulletin board with which they informed the students of Warwick of the achievements of past graduates.

Throughout the year the WHS chapter heard interesting speakers and held a special program where each staff's publication was explained.

Quill and Scroll was composed of outstanding journalists from the Plough, Earle, and Warwick staffs and was supervised by Miss Lois Callahan.

Miss Lois Callahan reviews the Quill and Scroll Constitution at a bi-weekly meeting.

Scholarship — Characteristic of National Honor Society

The National Honor Society this past year contained upstanding young citizens who represented the achievements of good citizenship, scholarship, and high standards of moral conduct. All of the members tried to uphold and demonstrate these qualities to the best of their ability throughout the entire year. National Honor Society began the 1965-66 school year. Under the capable leadership of Frances Kunze, president; Lou Cartin, vice-president; and Brenda Smith, secretary; the selective group endeavored to develop a strong feeling for the higher qualities of life throughout Warwick High School.

A tapping ceremony was held in the spring for the purpose of giving deserving juniors and seniors a place in this honorary organization. The increased number of participants caused it to become even more effective.

A constitution explaining the aims and objectives of the group was distributed this year for the first time. Each member valued this document and carried out its purposes to the best of their ability.

When the day of graduation finally arrived, the senior members of the National Honor Society were given the distinct honor of wearing gold tassels on their caps. In this way, the top scholars of the Class of '66 were recognized.

Crown, Roses, Band Honor Queen at Homecoming Game

Intrigue and excitement pervaded Warwick High School with a secret agent atmosphere during the big Homecoming week.

The beautiful results given to WHS students were not accomplished without planning, work, setbacks, and more work. Behind the scenes, the various sub-committees carried out their duties thoroughly and successfully. Almost every girl was seen wearing a beautiful chrysanthemum the night of the game, and chances were it was from her best beau. Thanks to the boys, the total sales from the flower committee brought an ample profit for the first time. The homecoming voting committee headed by Don Owen ran smoothly and quickly, and the end results were quite successful—a lovely court with nine girls representing the classes.

An added treat was the big bonfire and pep rally which stirred up school spirit for the big game with Motoaka.

Agent 0065, Leslie Jones, starred in the comic assembly and used secret agent antics to show Warwick's superiority over Motoaca. The secret agent influence seemed to be catching, for the football team very neatly applied the Bond-technique and shut-out the Motoaca Indians.

The highlight of the evening was the momentous announcement of the Homecoming Queen for 1965. Last-minute details were a cause for frantic worry for Homecoming co-chairmen Patti Phelps and Kenny Nowell. The panic subsided, however, as the crowning grew near. The lovely candidates paraded before the spectators displaying the beauty of WHS while excitement mounted to a feverish pitch. The band played; the girls glowed; and Sandy Paine was the radiant choice—Warwick High School's Homecoming Queen for 1965.

Male Clubs Sponsor Varied Money Making Projects

Throughout the past year, the Warwick Key Club fulfilled its international objective: "serve with integrity." Starting the year off with a successful dance, the select group soon buckled down to the more serious work of choosing vocational speakers and developing meaningful ties with the father organization, the Kiwanis Club. The boys were also able to repeat a stunning victory in their annual football game with the Hi-Y without many casualties.

"Clean speech, clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship, and clean living" were maintained and demonstrated throughout the year by the Warwick Hi-Y. They carried out their service projects such as handling the lost and found, keeping the national and state flag, caring for the flagpole grounds, and presenting sportsmanship trophies with a smile and a generous spirit. At Christmas time the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y jointly performed the Christmas assembly where the Miss Warwick Hi-Y court was presented. By attending the various conferences the Hi-Y truly showed their interest for improving their school and community.

During the first year of its existence, the John M. Caywood Junior Hi-Y undoubtedly showed its desire to participate actively in helpful projects. They sponsored dances, sock hops, and a Teacher's Aid Program. Their largest project was the Christmas drive in which they collected toys and can goods for the needy.

Crew Handles Sets, Lights For Thespian Productions

"Spotlight ready, curtain up, break a leg, you're on!"—a Thespians first moment on stage—perhaps the most momentous, but definitely not the only exciting part of theatrical life. Staying up half the night working on sets also provided fun and laughter along with plenty of hard work. Of course, the Thespians never completely finished any production without a minor casualty of some type, as sponsor Mrs. Flowers knew.

Working towards another goal, the Thespians sold doughnuts, washed cars, and held bake sales. The profits from these money-making projects went mainly into financing their annual spring banquet. This banquet was taken aboard a pleasure boat where they dined and danced, elected their new officers, gave awards, and selected the "Thespian of the Year."

While the curtain was up and the actors were taking their bows, there was yet another group of Thespians working hard—the stage and make-up crews. This past year, Joe Fullenkamp and Pat O'Neil headed the industrious stage crew team, while other members of the "gang" skillfully applied make-up to participants in plays and assemblies. These eager young people preferred the personal satisfaction of a job well-done than to hear a round of applause.

Special Events Add Interest, Intrigue to School Routine

WGH supplied Warwick with an enjoyable evening when their Microphonies met WHS's faculty in basketball. The faculty which was cheered on by Batman and the student body was the victor of the comic battle.

Warwick High had the distinct honor of being presented with the Freedom Shrine, an exhibit of America's freedom documents, by the Warwick Exchange Club. Receiving the shrine were Mr. Caywood, WHS Principal, and Mr. McIntosh, Superintendent of the Newport News School System. This shrine will have a place of honor in Warwick's new school plant.

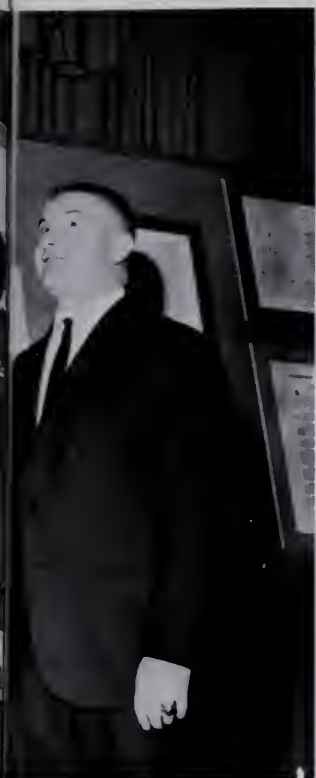

Lance Wood was chosen to represent WHS in the WGH Radio Contest. His excellent knowledge of current events enabled him to defeat many opponents.

The Hi-Y outdid itself with the presentation of the annual Miss Warwick Hi-Y Contest. Denise Murphy, the lovely senior, was voted the winner at the semi-formal Christmas Dance.

In one of the first assemblies of the year, Robert Jenkins presented the school with an American flag which had flown over the United States Capitol Building. The flag was presented in honor of the school's founding.

"Friendly Farmer Week" was climaxed by the annual Farmer Day. All WHS students came to school decked out in their farmer "duds." The Farmer family was selected, and that night the annual staff gave a dance for all friendly farmers—farmer clothes and all!

State government was studied and enjoyed by the 1965 Boys' and Girls' State delegates. Valuable lessons in political procedures and meetings with students from all over the state provided them with an unforgettable experience. As an added honor, Brenda Winall was elected Girls' State Governor.

WHS hosted All-Regional Chorus for 1965. The best Farmer vocalists were chosen to complete the select district group.

Six "brainy" seniors displayed Warwick's scholastic superiority by receiving National Merit Letters of Commendation. Kitty Elkins, Lance Wood, John Allen, James Sampson, David Schindel, and Brenda Winall were the winners.

The '65 "Snowmen" ended an exciting football season with honors. Three outstanding players, Stu Garrett, Mike Carmean, and Randy Hutchison, were choices from Warwick for the All-Peninsula team.

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y delegates traveled to Richmond for the Model General Assembly. Learning and understanding Virginia's government was their main goal.

Bond Sales, Twerp Week Help Boost AFS Treasury

The work of the American Field Service for WHS, which was sponsored by Mrs. Ourednik, began by entertaining a busload of students returning to their homelands after an eventful year in the United States.

This year the club worked towards a goal of $1,500 to enable Warwick to receive a foreign exchange student and possibly to send a Warwick student abroad.

The AFS presented an assembly with a skit where the members portrayed students of Dogpatch High School. This assembly promoted the sale of AFS bonds which went on sale the following week. In fact, the sale proved to be the most successful in Warwick's history; and to celebrate this achievement, they held a dance. The second AFS Carnival was held on April 23. Other projects of the year included Twerp Week and the Student-Faculty basketball game. The AFS was also busy with speaking engagements for civic organizations.

This year the foreign exchange student was Joe Alfonso from Bogota, Colombia. Joe was enthusiastically welcomed and quickly became very active in many school functions.

Serenity, Courage, Wisdom Guide Seniors Leaving WHS

The energetic and resourceful Class of '66 plunged into many activities as the year progressed. Under the fine leadership of their officers, the class members participated in money-raising activities for the joint purposes of the SCA Scholarship fund and the senior class gift.

Original projects were carried out by the seniors. The major one was the Spoof Annual which required hours of hard work. Even more hours of pleasure came to all who saw and read the comic volume. The dramatic abilities of the seniors were tested by the Senior Class Play given in the spring as a substitute for the Drama Department's production. The active class also had a booth in the AFS Carnival, which was highly successful.

Aside from money-raising projects, the Class of '66 held a meeting in January for the purpose of selecting the Senior Class color, flower, song, poem, and motto. Lavender and white were the color winners; the orchid, the flower choice; "Let There Be Peace on Earth," the song selection; "The Three-sided Figure," written by Anna Markley, the most popular poem; and "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference" was the motto favored by the class.

The class of '66 chose the orchid as their class flower.

"The Three-sided Figure"

Fresh and young we enter this world.
Swiftly and yet ever so softly we are hurled
To grow and learn whatever comes each day
That we may learn and love God in our own way.
And as we grow, the laughter, the song, the face—they all remain.
They still shine bright in our heart's domain.
But along with the laughter, the life moves on
As a three-sided figure of today, tomorrow, and gone.
We lift up our eyes and march forth with our might,
Praying that God will always be our guiding light.
Today we are here and yesterday is past . . .
Tomorrow we will bring all that must last.

Six Senior Leaders Chosen for

The capabilities of Brenda Gail Smith were displayed by her willingness to work and to lead others. As chairman of the Executive Honor Council, she endeavored to create an effective honor code for WHS.

Brenda became Remembrance Committee chairman in '65-'66, a job which required time and thought. She was a member of the Future Nurses Club and held various offices in the organization. Her academic average earned her a place in the National Honor Society.

Brenda certainly was "Most Likely to Succeed" in the Senior Class. She worked tirelessly as a Candy Stripper, and was president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Brenda plans to attend the Medical College School of Nursing; and to insure her success, she later intends to work for her Masters' degree.

Whether scoring an exciting touchdown, making an impressive lay-up shot, or slamming a baseball, Lucius Roscoe Cartin excelled. His success was partly due to athletic ability as well as to a sportsmanlike attitude, which earned him the 1965-66 sportsmanship award. Aside from sports, Lou established himself as a Senior Leader with his varied activities.

Academically Lou rated near the top of his class. After his induction into the National Honor Society, he was elected vice-president and also held an office in the Key Club. The honor of being appointed SCA Chaplain was Lou's in 1965-66. His fellow classmates showed their confidence and liking of Lou by selecting him as a representative to Boys' State and by voting him "Most Popular" of the Senior Class.

After school hours, Lou found time to be active in Temple Baptist Church, where he served as president of his Sunday School class.

When graduation is over, Lou hopes to attend VPI and major in either math or engineering.

No other words except "Best-all-Around" could completely describe Brenda Sue Winall. This active senior led WHS as SCA president for '65-66 after holding the office of vice-president the previous year. She was definitely a leader.

Brenda's position enabled her to attend the SCA State and District Conventions and to be a Federation delegate. Her classmates elected her to travel to Girls' State where she won the highest office, Governor of the delegation.

Academically the vivacious senior maintained her high standing. She was honored by being inducted into the National Honor Society and also was one of six seniors to receive a National Merit Letter of Commendation. Her energy never stopped. As a Varsity and J.V. Cheerleader, Brenda yelled her teams on to victory while promoting school spirit.

Brenda's future plans include attendance at Pfeiffer College, on a four-year scholarship, with Biology her major. She also intends to do graduate research in a biological science.

Scholastic Abilities and Activities

An outstanding and inspiring debater, Lance Dews Wood, was one of WHS's most highly admired seniors of 1966. His contributions at the debate table and on "We, the Young People" made him a well-known student and established his leadership qualities.

Throughout high school, Lance maintained a superior scholastic average. This achievement was recognized by his induction into the National Honor Society, his Key Club membership, and his title of "Most Intellectual" given to him by his fellow graduates. Also his National Merit Letter of Commendation and his semi-finalist standing in the annual WGH Radio Contest provided Lance with the opportunity of proving his talents.

After graduation, Lance intends to enter college, probably William and Mary, with the goal of a vocation in social sciences.

A literary-minded senior, Donna Leigh Hales, wrote her way to a Senior leader position. The Plough staff received the benefits of her contributions for three years. As essay and feature editor, she established her capabilities and in 1965 was chosen co-editor of Warwick's literary magazine. Her outstanding journalistic endeavors were rewarded when she was voted into Quill and Scroll, and when she was elected as a delegate to SIPA.

Donna maintained an outstanding scholastic average throughout high school. Proofs of her excellence were shown as she was inducted into National Honor Society and by her "Most Intellectual" rating given her by her fellow classmates. Donna was active in Prom work and senior committees. Most of her endeavors, however, went towards the Future Teachers of America. Her work as president of the club helped to prepare her for her future goals.

Donna has been accepted at Meredith College where she will work toward a career as a high school English teacher.

Senior Class President, Percy Everett Hogg, led the class of '66 through an eventful year. His many and varied activities established his capability for holding the title of a Senior Leader.

His tireless efforts continued throughout his years at Warwick, whether concerning the Debate Team, his position as co-chairman of the Leadership Training committee, or promoting school pride. All duties were undertaken with enthusiasm by Everett, and he was deservedly chosen as "Most School Spirited" of the Senior Class.

Everett always showed an interest in others. For years he worked tirelessly for the AFS and eventually was elected club president. Through this organization he attended the Foreign Student Forum. As a delegate to the SCA District Convention and the Federation, he further displayed his leadership qualities.

Outside of Warwick, Everett was an active member of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church where he was president of the youth group, EYC.

His future plans include furthering his education at VPI in the field of architecture.

Sports Play an Important Role Throughout Farmerland

SPORTS

The pulse of Sports—a pounding, excited beat, responsible for hours of enjoyment and hard work, and pride in accomplishments.

Football, Junior Varsity and Varsity, begins the athletic school year with its thrills, victories, defeats, and tremendous spirit . . . Track events continue throughout the year with the cross-country and indoor types . . . The winter sport is basketball, causing another intense wave of student excitement . . . Backhand swings are only part of the tennis team's skills . . . Batting averages and home runs are high when the baseball teams take over the sports picture . . . Wrestling takes much skill, energy and practice, but creates interest in all . . . In the spring, the golf team practices drives and putts to get into the swing of the season.

In the female line, cheering is a major undertaking. These girls give much time and effort to promoting school spirit and sportsmanship in all phases of school life. The Girls' Recreation Association gives an opportunity to demonstrate their skill in field hockey, volleyball, basketball, tennis, archery, and gymnastics.

The hearts of WHS students are truly with the team members. The pride in Warwick's accomplishments causes the beat to increase and the pulse to quicken.

Farmers Secure Second Place in Peninsula District

Lou Cartin, 23, drives for first down against Kellam.

"Go! Fight! Win!" was the slogan of the Warwick Farmers as they plowed down the field to six victories, three defeats, and one tie. The first victory over Oscar Smith (19-0) gave the team the confidence and determination to make this a winning season. The second game was just as impressive with a 14-0 victory over Kecoughtan. Ray Smith's interception of a Warrior pass put the Farmers in scoring position and with 10:11 remaining in the fourth period, Marty Bonnett bulled his way over from the three-yard line for the Farmers' first touchdown. Bonnett also added the placement to make it, 7-0. Four plays later, Hickman dove over from the one-yard line and Bonnett added his second placement to set the final count at 14-0. Speedsters Lou Cartin, Rick Brown, and Stu Garrett aided the Farmers' cause.

The Farmers' first defeat (17-0) was to Granby at Foreman Field due to fact that they could not plow through the stubborn and aggressive Comet wall.

The Warwick Farmers bounced back impressively after their loss to Granby, walloping Eastern foe, Kellam, 32-0. To add to their wins, the Farmers put together a total of 234 yards on offense to stop Motoaca of Richmond, 27-0.

Warwick had numerous opportunities to push across a touchdown against Newport News, but they failed to get that clutch yardage and lost, 7-0. York's surprising Falcons put on a great second-half defensive show and upset Warwick, 7-6, handing the Farmers their second straight loss.

In the Warwick versus Hampton game a pass from junior David Hickman to Jack Howard put the Farmers on the scoreboard. Then, in the final stanza following a TD by Hampton, defensive back Tommy Hamilton intercepted a Crabber pass and darted into the end zone for the game-winning TD, 14-7.

The Farmers only tie of the season came when Jack Howard caught his second TD pass in two weeks, leaving the score George Washington of Danville 7 and Warwick 7.

For the last game of the season, everyone turned out to see the Farmers plow the Mariners under. A 60-yard pass from Marty Bonnett to Stu Garrett sparked the Farmers to a 7-0 score which was followed by Gregg Park's dive into the end for a second score. This set the final count at 14-0.

To the seniors on the team, this was a very good season. Three of them made the Peninsula team: Stu Garrett, end, Mike Carmean, tackle, and Randy Hutchison, guard. Although the team lost seventeen seniors, many J.V. players advanced to take their place. Altogether, the Farmers enjoyed a successful year.

Senior Farmers Lead Team Through Successful Season

Determination, Teamwork

Pace Farmers' Victories

The fighting Farmers plowed their way through an action-packed basketball season in '65-66. Although the over-all record of 7 wins and 12 losses and the district standing of 4 wins and 8 losses were not as impressive as in years past, WHS spectators confirmed the excitement of the contests with their whole-hearted yelling.

With a sharp whistle blast and a high jump ball, the Warwick cagers began the season. Great Bridge was defeated, 45-43, in a close contest of matched skills. A trip to Granby the following week gave the Farmers their first defeat, as the Comets downed Warwick, 70-62. A last-minute decision favored WHS against York with a 51-50 score in the first conference game of the year.

As the season progressed, the Farmers improved their shooting, dribbling, and defensive play. Coach Wilbur Thompson tried many combinations for the starting line-up. Bob Kretz, Marty Bonnett, Doug Briggs, Mike Klarer, Wayne Javins, Stu Garrett, Lou Cartin, and David Hickman were among the most extensively used players. These boys managed a quick and exciting step-up to win 6 of the last 10 games.

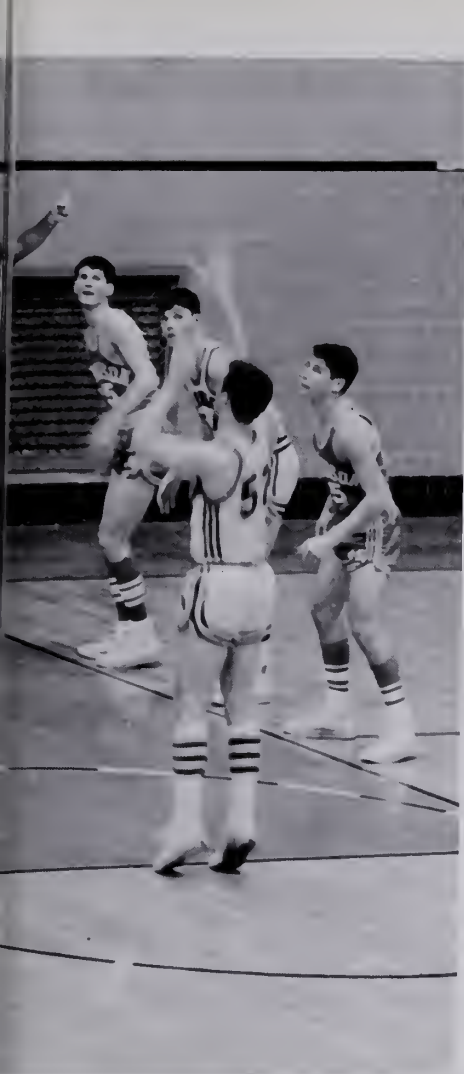

An outstanding Farmer cager, Bob Kretz, established himself as one of the top guards in the district and state with his sharp outside shooting and fast, hard drives. Other underclassmen provided WHS with a guarantee of success for the next season.

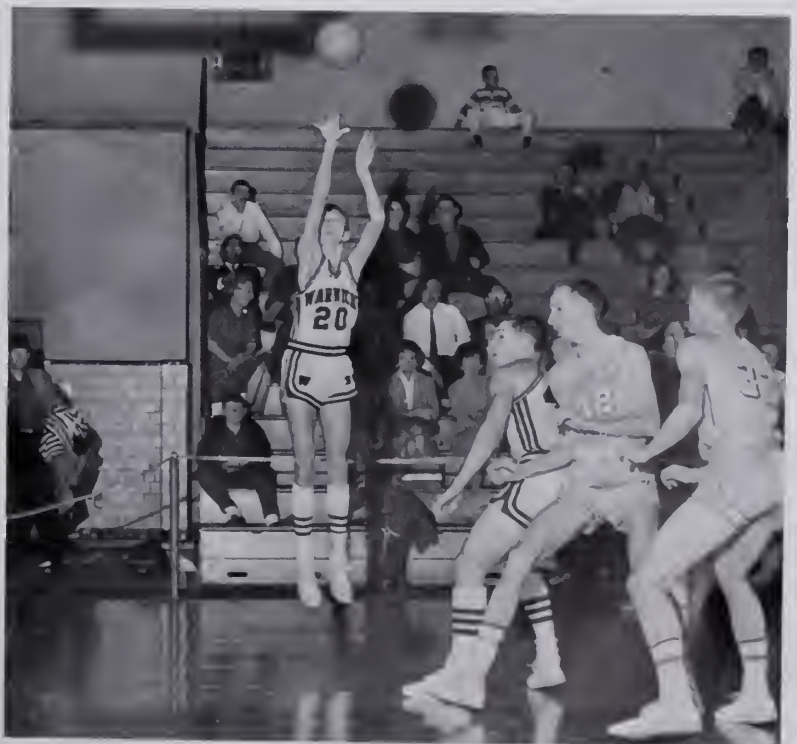

Kretz tosses one in from the charity line against Ferguson.

Huddles Prepare Players' Court Co-operation, Timing

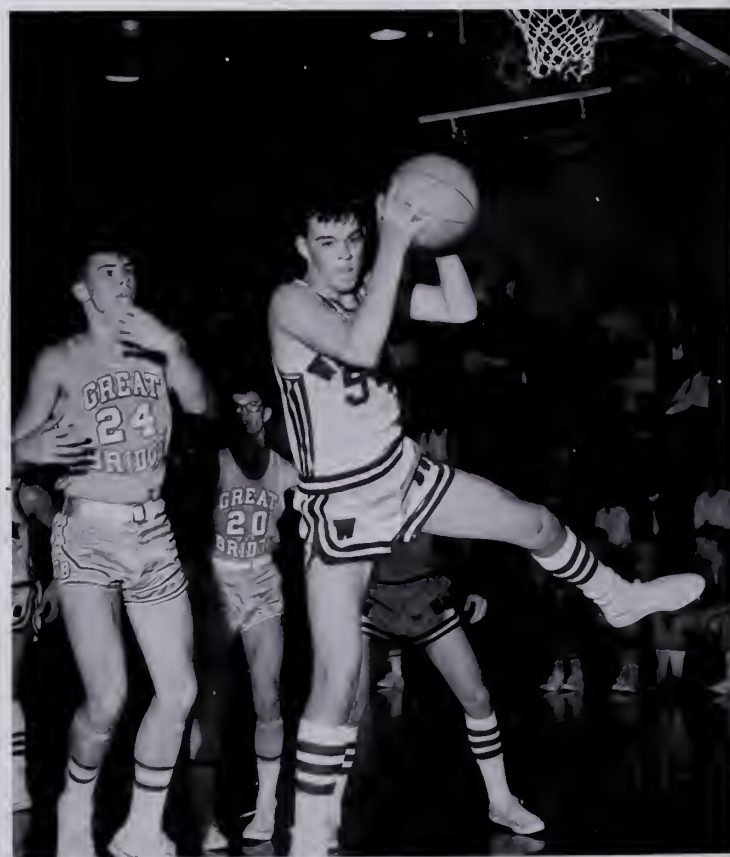

Neighboring rival Newport News downed Warwick in their two contests, but not without a demonstration of fighting Farmer spirit. Warwick shocked Kecoughtan in their first meeting with an aggressive offense and "never-say-die" enthusiasm. The Warriors rallied, however, and tripped Thompson's boys with a score of 42-41. In the second game, the tables were turned and Kecoughtan fell, 71-69, after Stu Garrett ripped the nets for a last-minute 2 points. The Ferguson Mariners chalked up their first basketball win ever over Warwick when these foes first met this year. The mighty Farmers were not daunted and later whipped "the junior high" in their remaining two meets.

The WHS basketball team had the opportunity of competing in the new Peninsula District Tournament. Once again they faced the Mariners and once again the teams were evenly matched. Warwick held a definite lead throughout a greater portion of the game, but in the final minutes Ferguson hit the Farmers with a speedy come-back. As the buzzer sounded, the score was tied. Yelling fans witnessed the three exciting minutes of overtime, and watched the Mariners roll—and win with the heart-breaking score of 40-38. This loss ended the exciting '65-66 season.

Agility, Skillful Coaching Prompt Tennis Victories

The season for backhand swings, "love," and out-door courts began in the cold month of March. Coach Jerry Kennedy did his best to keep the boys warm through exercise and running, but the beginning results were mainly felt in sore muscles and tired bodies.

Warwick's tennis team was strong this year due to the fact that only one member graduated last year. Experience was the key to the success of the Farmer netters. Returning players who led the team to victory were Mike Taylor, Nabeel Al-Salaam, Tommy Tucker, John Allen, and George Squires. To back these members up, six new boys were chosen after a rugged trial.

The team was in great spirits for the season and ripped the nets for victory after victory. For Warwick's first year in the peninsula district, they competed against each school in the area twice. Several matches were also scheduled outside the district to give more variety to the season. The active group played until the end of the merry month of May.

Afternoon workouts, continual practice, and a great deal of enthusiasm enabled Warwick's tennis pros the chance to prove their excellence. With previous years to guide them and present experience to aid them, the boys were tops!

Members of the 100 meter indoor relay team are Stuart Smith, James Warren, Wade Heath, and Gregg Park.

Tommy Morris practices his finishing kick on a practice sprint.

Gregg Park displays the form that is needed to win in the low hurdles.

With experience as their guide, the WHS Varsity track members moved forward into an action-packed season. Although overshadowed by the football season, cross country track was being run. After the football season, Warwick's outstanding runners, hurdlers, and shot putters endeavored to make the '65-66 season for indoor track a success.

In the distance running, Tommy Morris, outstanding senior sprinter, led the Varsity track team to many victories in several events. He bettered his rank in state indoor competition to a third place in the indoor mile after winning fifth place honors the year before. Gene Hutchens, Warwick's experienced shot putter, placed second in the state meet in the indoor shot put, while Glenn Reeves, senior athlete, led the Farmer thin clads to several victories in the discus throwing event.

While not a winner in state competition, Gregg Park, a rising Junior, came on strong in the 440 yard dash with speed and agility. Once again Stu Smith sparked WHS with his fine displays on high and low hurdles, sprints, and broad jumps. Don Hall jumped to great lengths to prove his skills in the broad jump. Another outstanding athlete, Donald Seymore, led the pace for added wins and higher glories for the Warwick track team. Henry Cooke also demonstrated fine performances in the triple jump and pole vault events. On the high jumps were John Bellinger and Dale Bateman, who concluded Warwick's award-winning Varsity track team.

The speedy trackmen for 1965-66 are: Row 1: Robert Yancy, Barry White, Brian Byrd, John Procter, Robert Deal. Row 2: Richard Mercer, Greg Park, Tommy Morris, Henry Cook. A fairly experienced Farmer line-up put the 1966 Varsity baseball chances on a high level. While lacking depth in some positions, the team was still in good contention for district honors.

The strong points this year were slugging and running. Marty Bonnett, Stu Garrett, Donnie Griffith, and Billy Martin proved to be the big bats for this year's Farmer team. The all-important pitching duties rested heavily on the shoulders of juniors David Hickman, Hayden Gregg, and Wayne Javins. While pitching wasn't the strongest area for Snow's "Batmen," they were still known as "The Hitless Wonders," because of their speed on the basepaths. Mike Judkins, Stu Garrett, Marty Bonnett, and Tony Wood guaranteed the excitement of plenty of stolen bases to add to the fast-moving games.

The season began on March 29 with a non-conference game against Gloucester. April Fool's Day marked the first game of district play. Warwick's quick-moving action showed Ferguson that they weren't fooling!

This was the year to top all years for the fighting Farmers. High spirits and determination put the boys in a good frame of mind for the '66 race. Championship material was on the move under the competent coaching of Jim Snow. As the players pitched, hit, fought and ran, everyone watched—and cheered for one of WHS's greatest Varsity baseball teams in recent years.

The Farmer matmen of 1965-66 went forward to meet their season's opponents with vigor, determination, spirit, and that all-important quality of outstanding wrestling ability.

Sprained knees, weight problems, icy snow, cut and broken fingers, and many flu cases did not hold these Warwick players back. They chalked up a 6-7 dual meet record, which was a great improvement over previous years. The team opened the season with only five returning lettermen, three of them seniors. Thus, much of the success was due to the efforts put out by the younger, inexperienced boys.

Leading the team's efforts were: three seniors—captain, Randy Hutchison, Randy Lucas, and Tommy Hamilton; and returning district champion, Claude Branch, a junior. Other underclassmen, who showed their fine wrestling ability, helped to balance the team's strength.

This year Warwick's wrestling team was transferred from the Central District to the Eastern District where they skillfully defeated such foes as York, Virginia Beach, Hampton, and Denbigh. This change resulted in stiff competition at the 1966 Eastern District Regional Wrestling Tournament. "Hasinger's Hustlers" did, however, earn 19 points and a twelfth place in the district with two wrestlers, Claude Branch and Tommy Hamilton, placing fourth in their individual weight classes. This feat enabled them to represent Warwick at the State Wrestling Tournament at Arlington, Virginia.

Varsity Pepsters Prompt Farmer Spirit, Sportsmanship

Elizabeth Fife, Joyce Bohlken, and Jo Saunders jump for joy in victory over Oscar Smith.

"Don't matter if it rains, don't matter if it shines, WHS can win any time!" So yelled the slightly soaked but vivacious Varsity Cheerleaders through the rainy '65 football season. The chant seemed to be quite effective as the season's record later showed.

Summer practices started the pepsters on their way to the big year. Hard work and originality with new cheers made Warwick's squad a big hit at the annual Varsity Revue held in August at Craddock High School.

New ideas and methods characterized the lively group this year. One major change was the formation of the Cheerleaders' Club, which sponsored a dance with the Monogram Club. Also the number of pepsters increased from nine to ten, plus the alternate, who participated actively in the group. Debbie Powell and Vicki Mooza served as co-captains instead of the one captain of previous years.

An exciting event for the cheerleaders was the trip to Danville for the football game with George Washington High. They were treated royally by their hosts and stirred up spirit, and a little rain, for their team in the close battle.

Fun-filled practices which tested their endurance in laughter; quick, refreshing trips to Burger-Chef; changes in uniform; football and basketball games; and those days spent teaching the new Denbigh cheerleaders, rounded out a complete, rewarding year for the enthusiastic Varsity Cheerleaders.

"Fore" Was the Forceful Cry of the WHS Golfers

With the smooth swing of a golf club, the Warwick High golf team began its 1966 season. Onward and upward—these words characterized the goals of these enthusiastic boys. Last year's winless matches, while showing a lack of experience in team competition, provided the needed experience for future years.

Because the team was saved from the mishap of any broken bones this year, great improvements were made in the game. Coach Wilbur Thompson found success in his three returning golfers: Harvey Rowe, the team's leading scorer; Kenny Overstreet; and Alvin Mirmelstein.

Through the courtesy of Fort Eustis, the team was provided with a practice course every afternoon after school. Matches were played on various area courses. Princess Anne, Cavalier, Suffolk, Bide-A-Wee, and Bow Creek courses were the scenes of action for WHS meets. The district tournament, an exciting contest between golf "pros", took place at Eaglehaven Golf Course at Virginia Beach.

Alvin Mirmelstein, Kenny Overstreet, and Harvey Rowe put their heads together in hopes of finding a new golf grip.

Girls Combine Talent, Poise With Recreational Activities

Girls! Girls! Girls! They seemed to be everywhere and seemed to be doing almost everything to prove their athletic abilities this year. The extra enjoyment they experienced in the many sports fields was the result of Warwick High's excellent Girls' Recreation Association.

Activities began in the fall with the sport of field hockey. WHS's enthusiastic team compiled an impressive scoreboard, not to mention bruised shins and battered bones. To increase their knowledge and enjoyment in hockey, GRA members set out for Westhampton College in October to see a British team. A later trip which was more exciting and rewarding for the girls was to Cox High School for the Field Hockey Tournament. Success lighted the smiles of five of Warwick's best players—Janet Burgess, Debbie Smith, Sandra Marble, Martha Miller, and Pat O'Sullivan as they were honored by being chosen to play on the allied teams.

As the days grew colder, GRA activities moved indoors. Basketball was welcomed, and the girls played it with skill. At the end of a successful season, a tournament was held at Ferguson High, and Warwick cagers defeated both Hampton and Denbigh. Janet Burgess, who excelled on the court, was selected to play on allied teams.

Stunts, Basketball, Track Highlight GRA Program

On and off the floor, girls proved to be skillful and graceful in gymnastics. Uneven parallel bars, the balance beam, the horse, and tumbling feats were all attacked with eagerness by the nimble GRA members. Miss Verzaal, the guiding hand behind all such activities, worked with and encouraged the girls to become better gymnasts. Her endeavors and the determination of the girls themselves enabled Warwick to enter the state gymnastic tournament in Roanoke in April with high hopes and great success.

Volleyball, softball, tennis, and archery were all enjoyed by the girls as the year progressed. Miss McJunkin, Miss Stewart, Miss Verzaal, and Mrs. Hellewell worked tirelessly with GRA officers, Gwen Taylor, Debbie Powell, and Janet Burgess, in making the Girl's Recreation Association a success in every way.

Certificates, pins, letters, and stars were awarded to the enthusiastic girls in the latter part of spring. New officers were installed for the coming athletic year at their annual picnic, and the graduating seniors had their final cry before their big day.

Power-packed determination constituted the 1965 Junior Varsity football team. The young group compiled a record of three wins, two losses, one tie—a fine follow-up to the undefeated '64 season.

The Baby Farmers started off in high gear by whipping the Denbigh Patriots, 20-6, accumulating the 20 big points in the first quarter. In their second game, the team met defeat at the hands of York, 19-12, in a well-fought, hard-hitting struggle. Warwick then shut-out Ferguson for the second straight year, 6-0. The '65 season was highlighted by a magnificent victory over arch-rival Newport News. The sting of the Varsity loss the night before was lessened greatly by this tremendous J.V. effort. On the opening kick-off Don Blume raced 80 yards for the first of his three touchdowns. Final score: Warwick J.V. 39, Newport News 0.

To wind up an exciting season, Warwick was edged by undefeated Hampton, 7-6. During the hard-fought battle, the Baby Farmers triumphed by being the first team to score on the Crabbers this season. A win seemed in store for Warwick J.V.'s with the assets of many long gains and that important touchdown, but penalties were the downfall of the mighty members of Farmerland.

Hard Practice, Co-ordination Boost Jayvee Triumphs

With disappointment this year's Junior Varsity basketball team were only able to post a won five and lost twelve ledger. However, the deciding factors of most of the games weren't confirmed until the closing minutes of the games.

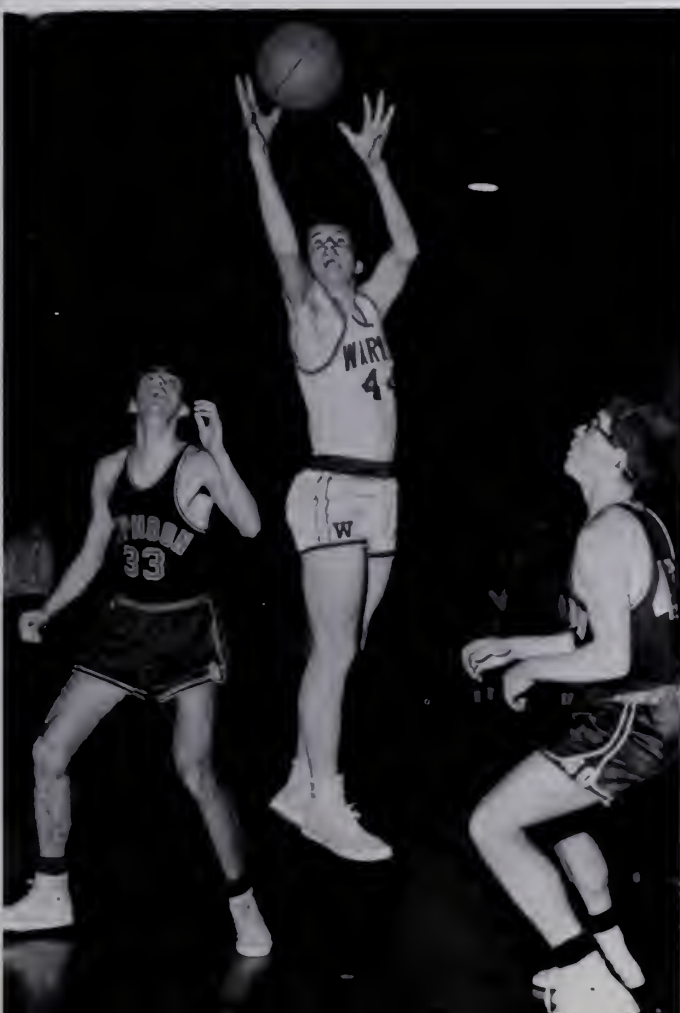

Coached by Jim Snow, the "height shy" and inexperienced J. V. team made "hustle" and "determination" their style of play. Having lost several of last year's players to the varsity team, the fighting J. V.'s rallied to find a talented "quint" with Chuck Pinnell, the only returning J. V. player from last year's squad, helping guide the team through its long season. Fine performances were contributed by the top rebounders, Greg Noland and Jack Howard, and by determined Sam Mayo and Mike Plott. Bobby Gore, the team's high scorer, averaged twelve points per game, while Jim Davis, Craig Dewey, and Clyde Darden frequently saw action on the courts.

There were many exciting games this season for the "little farmers," but probably the biggest victory was over the big and talented Kecoughtan Squad. After an extremely active game, the final score was 55-48, a decisive and meaningful victory.

Several of this year's players moved up for Varsity squad and there was hope that many of this year's players would return to the J. V. team. This year's team members showed much promise for the coming year; and although this season was disappointing for the J. V. team, it was promising.

Jayvee Tracksters Run, Vault Their Way to Success

With the high goal of setting illustrious, new records, the Junior Varsity track team ran, jumped, and hurdled with unswaying determination. Many newcomers contributed their skills to this purpose—success was the result.

Under the competent coaching of Mr. Quesenberry, Mr. Secules, and Mr. Hubbard, the young team met such opponents as York, Ferguson, Denbigh, Hampton, and Thomas Faton.

In many major track events the J.V. thinclads participated. Charles Chapman excelled in the difficult pole vaulting event. Lee Carney jumped the hurdles for an impressive showing. Some talented Farmers endeavored to compete in several events. Barry White, Wayne Hart, Glenn Creech, Steve Griffin, and Sid Nowell starred in shot putting, discus throwing and pole vaulting. Eighth graders who eagerly added their skill to the team's record were: Howard Hamilton with the high jump, Ernie Moody and Steve Carmean with the shot put, and Alvin Winall with the discus throw.

Long distance sprinters, Roy Dunkum, Micky Gsell, Ronnie Gregory, Steve Sherbourne, and Stuart Vansant flew down the track in 1966, and gave WHS a speedy season.

Spring breezes ushered in the J.V. out-door track season. The young team practiced and improved steadily. Sparked by distancemen, agile jumpers, and weightmen, the boys outdid themselves in all fields and made WHS proud of their season.

Jayvees Plan Strategies for Hard-Hitting Season

The '65-66 Junior Varsity baseball team displayed much talent again this year. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Workman, the J. V. team won numerous victories over rivals, as well as gaining much experience.

Coach Workman emphasized pitching, speed, and hitting power in practice. When the team played their first game with arch-rival Ferguson, they were well prepared. The newly formed team enjoyed great successes over other district teams and showed evidence of improvement after each game. Displaying their hard-hitting and agile abilities was a challenge to the J. V. team members as they met such teams as Hampton and Newport News.

Aiding the team to their successful season was their mighty, strong-armed pitcher, Larry Harrell, whose blazing fast ball earned many team wins. Doug Wrenn, one of the J. V. returners from last year, proved his skill again this season in fielding and slugging. Another excellent batter was returning sophomore, Jack Howard, whose batting average exceeded that of many of his toughest opponents. Scott Crane, another active sophomore, displayed his talents as a first rate short stop, while Mike Plott aided the infield with his position as second baseman.

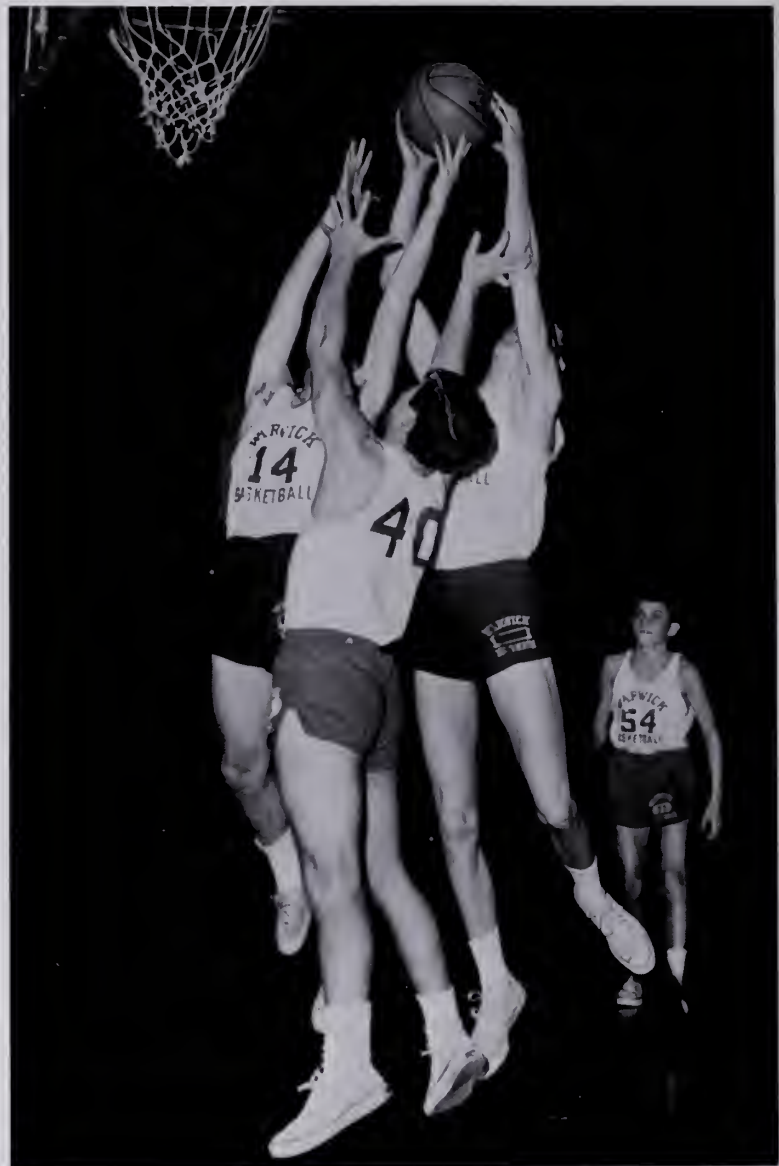

Mike Plott, second baseman, receives fast pass from short-stop Scot Crane.

Energetic 8th, 9th Graders Strive for Athletic Abilities

Perseverance was the word for the '65-66 eighth and ninth grade basketball team. Although they were handicapped with a relatively short team which kept their record to four wins out of eleven games, the members learned much from their experiences. In one of the exciting games with Newport News, the eighth and ninth graders succumbed only to the Typhoons by a narrow two points after an overtime period. They again proved their ability in a fast moving game with Denbigh, which the "little farmers" won after two overtime periods.

Although this year wasn't the best for the team, Coach Harrington was hopeful that with the returning eight graders and the experience they gained this season, next year's wins would surpass those of this year. Without a doubt, this year's capable team proved their ability in ball handling.

Peppy Jayvees Boost Team Spirit at Games

The newness of being cheerleaders didn't stop the vivacious '65-'66 Junior Varsity cheering squad from adding much to school spirit. A change in the cheering constitution provided for eighth, ninth, and tenth grade pepsters rather than the previous ninth, tenth, and eleventh graders. With no experienced J.V. cheerers, they had to rely on the Varsity pepsters teaching them, as well as on their own original methods of learning cheers.

Outshining their problems were all the fun times spent practicing, cheering, and partying. Those 10 a.m. summer practices could hardly be erased from the minds of the late sleepers. In spite of the sore muscles and exasperated vocal chords, a few of the J.V.'s managed to sneak in a fast game of touch-football with some of the Varsity football players.

Cheering under the lights at the Denbigh, Newport News, and York games; going to Shoney's; and selling programs for the Boosters Club were other memorable experiences. The J.V.'s also made new acquaintances with students and cheerleaders from other schools, thus increasing and spreading the reputation of Warwick's "friendly Farmers."

Advertisers Play Key Part in Publication of Annual

ADVERTISEMENTS

The pulse of ads—a commercial beat creating harmony between businessmen, the school, and the public.

Advertisers realize the vast importance of making their products and place of business known. Good business policy requires this. Competition creates an incentive for displaying all the good qualities of one's products in order to outsell all rivals. Advertising benefits any firm and is part of the American way of life.

In turn, the advertisers do a good deed by placing their ads in facilities that need the money for its publication. The school could not produce its literary publications without ads. Therefore, the business firm and school repay each other evenly and fairly.

The pulse of advertisements is one of giving, receiving, learning, and necessity. This throb is vital to the main body, Warwick High School, and is a lasting, meaningful movement.

LOANS FOR LEARNING

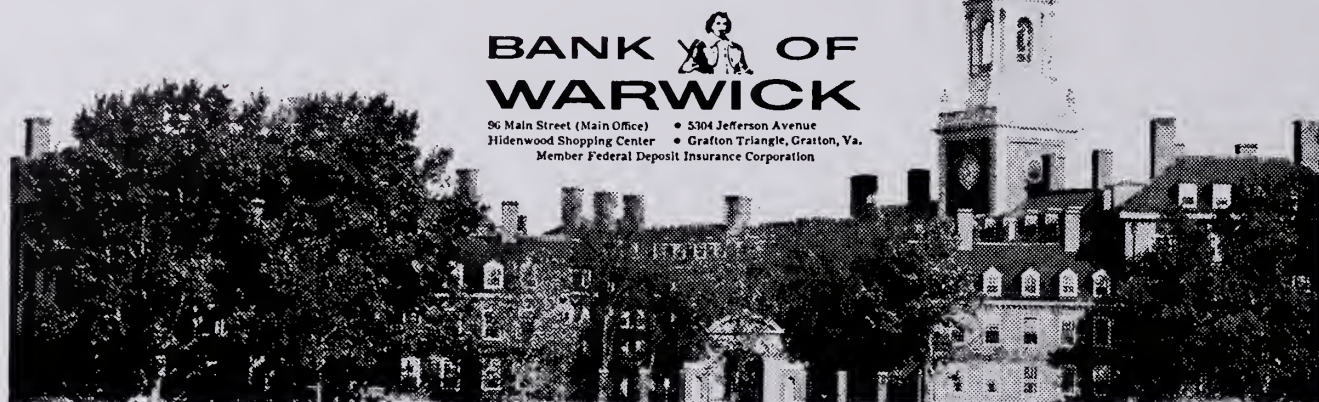

In its ever broadening scope of community and customer services, the Bank of Warwick offers two college loan plans to high school graduates.

The first plan provides up to $1,000 per year at 6% interest, repayable in low monthly installments.

The second plan is specifically designed for students entering State supported schools and allows a maximum of $3,000 at 4½% interest covering the period while the student is in school, and 5% interest following graduation.

The first payment is not due until six months after graduation.

Those students of good character, with an earnest desire for a college education, are cordially invited to inquire for further details at any Bank of Warwick office.

Band, Bagpipe Corps Honors Robert Parker for Service

"By the center; quick step; march."

A sharp command from the drum major and the band moves off. Robert Parker has not only been leading the Grenadier Band and Bagpipes Corps for the past four years, but he has also been an asset in bringing honor and fame to Warwick. This honor can be found materially in the trophy case; the fame—in the ovations of the street-lined crowds, in the praises of high naval and federal officials.

Serving in the capacity of Bagpipe Drum Major in 1963, Robert gained the knowledge and experience that would soon put Warwick's Band among the top-ranking bands on the Eastern seaboard.

Robert Parker moved up to Grenadier Drum Major in 1964. During his first year in this position; Robert, himself, walked off with two top awards for the Best Drum Major at the internationally famous Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia. Other awards received during Robert's "Rule" are over nine first places; two, second places; and two, third places. The band has also performed at the annual inspection of the Naval Air Reserve, and in the Hampton Historical Society's Annual Celebration at Kecoughtan.

As Robert leaves Warwick this year he will leave many memories of the band: the parades, the last minute adjustments, the memorization of music, the glory of winning, the depression of defeat. He will also leave a tradition. The tradition of Warwick as a top band; a tradition which will be continued for future years. And as Robert Parker gives his last command for his final performance, we of the Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps, give him a grateful and heart-felt thank you.

Right: Robert Parker, distinguished in his English uniform, prepares to lead the band in another performance.

Below: Styled after the English guards, the band is unique in their dress as well as their music.
